Charges Judge's Bias Barred Fair Verdict in Rosenberg Case

By HARRY RAYMOND
 Openly expressed prejudice of Federal Judge Irving Kaufman against the defendants in the trial of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted and sentenced to death last year as A-bomb spies, prevented the jury from reaching a fair and impartial verdict in the case, defense attorney Emanuel H. Bloch told the U.S. Court of Appeals Friday.

Bloch would up two days of argument on appeal of the case, asserting, in addition, that Judge Kaufman violated the 8th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution by imposing the unprecedented death sentence. The sentence, he said, was "cruel and unusual."

"Never before in the entire history of the United States had a civil court, either in peace or war, decreed a sentence of death for the crime of espionage."

Bloch contended the trial judge committed a serious judicial error when he:

- Employed devices "to shore up the case of the prosecution and to gut the foundations of the defense."
- Disrupted the orderly presentation of evidence by grasping the opportunity, time and again, to emphasize the key points of the government's case.
- Prompted and misled the witnesses for the prosecution and invoked his powers to shield them from blows of impeachment.

- "Minimized or neutralized the effects of wavering or inquisitorial credibility of prosecution witnesses."
- Treated the defendants with animosity, dislike and hostility.
- Broke up direct examinations of the defendants to subject them to "ubiquitous, evasive and prosecutive questioning."
- Barred himself as a mediator striving to hear the case to his will for conviction.

INFLECTED INJURY

The injury caused by Judge Kaufman's attitude to the Rosenbergs, who denied the spy charge from the witness stand, inflicted "substantial and irreparable injury on the accused," Bloch told the Appeals Court.

"The defendants secured a high quality trial," he said, "devoid of the substance of fairness."

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, lawyers charged, were sentenced to death "for their political ideology, because they were non-conformists."

"I say this is outrageous," Bloch declared. "I say it shocks the conscience. Read the government's brief, your honors. It castigates the defendants for their (alleged Communist) political ideology. This sentence is cruel and unusual. It was imposed here as a warning against political heresy."

The only primary documentary evidence introduced against the accused, he pointed out, was a collection can, said to be in their possession for the Joint Anti-Com-

December 31, 1953

URGENT FORMER COMMITTEE CALLS FOR JUSTICE IN ROSENBERG CASE

New York, N.Y., Dec. 31. - Dr. Joseph Brainin, well-known journalist and author, announced today that 125 Americans and 200 others from all over the United States, who represent many occupations and professions, have joined with the 10 former members of a National Committee to Obtain Justice in the Rosenberg Case.

Dr. Brainin, former secretary, federal and Illinois, were convicted in April, 1953, on a charge of "conspiracy to commit espionage" and sentenced to death. To this day, they continue to assert their innocence. They are now in Sing Sing, awaiting appeal. The world-famous physicist says their accused should extend from all over the world.

In addition to Dr. Brainin's formation, Dr. Brainin said: "This case has attracted world-wide attention because of many abnormal contradictions in the government's case and because of the severity of the sentence and the leniency shown to such confessed traitors as Eric Galt, Tokyo Rose, and others. In this connection, the fact that judge and prosecutor both were Jewish has led to fears that they surrendered to the McCarthy-like hysteria of the day. It is significant that none of the jurors was Jewish, although one-third of New York's population, where the trial took place, is of Jewish background."

The committee's statement calls attention to the fact that the death sentence which the Rosenbergs had raised fears in the leading Jewish press and other newspapers that the Rosenbergs were victims of religious bigotry.

Dr. Brainin also announced that a 32-page brochure "To Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case" was already being distributed in scores of thousands. The brochure is based on the findings of Mr. William Reuben, a journalist noted for having been the first to "break" the Trenton Six case. Dr. Reuben's analysis of the Rosenberg case was already resulted in hundreds of letters of support from every state in the union, from Alaska, Hawaii, France, Italy, Australia, Scotland, England, Canada and the Scandinavian countries.

Among the many notables who joined with Dr. Brainin in forming the committee and signing the enclosed statement are the following: E. the Hon. Robert Cross Lovett, former Governor of the Virgin Islands, Illinois; Rev. John E. Evans, Pa.; Dr. Katherine Dord, Ohio; Frederick Blossum, Wash., D.C.; John P. Clegg, Calif.; Lois Florida, Tenn.; Dr. John Marsalko, Conn.; Ivan Van Ass, Mass.; Also, Prof. Edwin Barry Durgan, Capt. Ruth E. Pulzoo, Rev. Spencer Leonard, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, Dr. Edward E. Baraky, B.L. Goldberg, John F. McNamee, Dr. Gene Geltrich, William Reuben, Morris U. Sch. Pos. all of New York.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO SECURE JUSTICE IN THE ROSENBERG CASE

grave doubt exists as to the guilt of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, who, in April, 1951, were sentenced to die in the electric chair on charges of espionage. The Rosenbergs, young parents of two small children, had pleaded innocent of all the facts. Their appeal is now pending in the U.S. Court of Appeals - Second Circuit.

The Government's case against the Rosenbergs rests almost exclusively on the testimony of David Greenglass and his wife Ruth, who, according to Ethel Rosenberg's statement, had committed espionage. By testifying against the Rosenbergs, David Greenglass escaped the death penalty and will be eligible for parole in eight years; Ruth Greenglass was never indicted and is free today.

It is a relevant fact, as revealed by the trial record of the case, that the alleged political opinions of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were a major element in the case. Fear that the Rosenbergs were also victims of religious bigotry was expressed, immediately following the trial, by the leading Jewish press and by other newspapers in this country.

The severity of their sentence is unprecedented. A sentence of death rests, presumably, upon establishing guilt beyond reasonable doubt. Yet even in cases where no doubt existed as to the guilt of the accused, such as "Main Bally" and "Tokyo Race", sentences of only ten years were imposed.

In the Rosenberg case, the future of two young children, as well as the lives of their parents, are at stake. But beyond the fate of this family is the right of all people in this country to freedom of thought. This is another reason why we feel constrained to bring further light upon this extraordinary case. Can any of us, whatever our occupations or beliefs, continue to function if the holding of unpopular opinions should make us liable to unjust prosecution and even to the threat of death?

If you feel, as we do, that justice has yet to be satisfied in the case of the Rosenbergs, you can help in three ways:

1. Join the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case.
2. Write us for further information, additional copies of this statement and other material on the case.
3. Contribute financially so that we can bring the facts in this case before our fellow citizens, and to assure funds for necessary legal expenses.

~~A MOTHER WRITES~~ FROM SING SING'S DEATH HOUSE!

"We said, and we say again, that we are victims of the grossest type of political frameup ever known in America."

—ETHEL ROSENBERG.

SHOULD THE ROSENBERGS DIE?

Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, parents of two small children, are the only persons ever sentenced to death by a U. S. civil court for alleged espionage.

Axis Sally, Tokyo Rose and other self-confessed traitors were spared their lives.

ARE THEY INNOCENT?

Are the Rosenbergs victims of McCarthy-like hysteria? Did a brother help convict his sister to save his own life?

In a series of articles, Mr. William Reuben, a crusading journalist, who "broke" the Trenton Six case, has cast grave doubt on the government's case against the Rosenbergs.

YOU CAN GET THE FACTS!

These articles are now in pamphlet form, published by the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case.

TIME IS SHORT!

The Rosenbergs may never see another New Year, if their appeals are denied.

WHAT YOU CAN DO!

1. Write for free copies of the pamphlet: "To Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case."
2. Write or call for speakers.
3. Write President Truman and Attorney General McGrath asking that justice be done in the Rosenberg case.
4. Send funds to the committee for legal and publishing expenses.

JUDGE IRVING KAUFMAN

Rosenbergs and other alleged atom bomb spies.

It cannot be accidental that in this case where the defendants were Jewish, the verdict of guilty, how could the judge be brought to break all legal precedent in a civil case involving espionage and impose the death sentence rather than imprisonment? It was known that the Justice Department wanted a death sentence as part of its campaign of intimidation of progressives. And did prominent Jews urge Judge Kaufman to impose the death sentence?

Where then did anti-Semitism enter into Judge Kaufman's considerations? Judge Kaufman wanted to convince those who would make anti-Semitic capital out of the fact that some alleged atomic spies were Jewish by showing them that Jews were also 150 percent Americans. If a Jew imposed the extreme penalty on Jews for alleged espionage, then the anti-Semites should be convinced that not all Jews were "communist-atom spies." Judge Kaufman's thinking is here similar to that of many frightened Jews of the American Jewish Committee and of the upper middle class who try to combat the "Jew-communist" stereotype by joining vociferously in the chorus of red-baiting. The judge wanted to demonstrate what the New York Daily Mirror said editorially on April 3 "Some bigots will say the three spies are Jews and will denounce all Jews. They will forget to say that the judge, the prosecutor, and the prosecutor's assistant who did a magnificent job for America, are also Jews." It would appear, then, that the death sentence was imposed to appease the bigots.

To clear up any doubt that this element entered into the judge's thinking, let us include himself. The perhaps unconsciously motivated him to issue a sentence which, in the opinion of many, is considered to be unjust and brutal."

THE FUTILITY OF APPEASEMENT

Essentially the same view was expressed by H. Levik in the article cited earlier. "What caused the judge to impose the extreme penalty?" asked Levik. "Is it not perhaps the fact that the judge is a Jew and the defendants are Jewish? The judge . . . struggled with his duty to be objective and did not have the strength to rise above himself, did not have the power to free himself from the heated tensions in the land today. He was also afraid that, if he did not give the extreme penalty, he would be suspected of having not done so because he is a Jew. . . . Precisely because Jewish accusers and a Jewish judge stand against accused Jews, . . . the judge should have been free from the Jewish complex and should under no circumstances have passed the death sentence upon a mother of two children."

One more witness is Dr. G. George Fox, a rabbi and columnist of the Chicago Sentinel, who wrote in the issue of April 12, the judge's decision is "imposed . . . I believe . . . that he was carried away to an extent by the hysteria which has overtaken our country." Then, discussing the anti-Semitic identification of all Jews as "communist spies," Dr. Fox added: "One does not have to beat his back hard enough to avoid things that may bring on insecurity and perhaps danger. Anti-Semites will be anti-Semites whether the Rosenbergs are sentenced to 30 years or death."

In this last statement Dr. Fox has put his finger on the futility of appeasement of anti-Semites by Jews, of which Judge Kaufman's imposition of the death sentence is a tragic example. The futility of appeasement was demonstrated in the case of German Jews, who thought that they could gain immunity from anti-Semitism and Nazi persecution by being more German than the Germans. Judge Kaufman tried to appease fascists and anti-Semites in America by being more hysterical than non-Jewish Americans. His action is in the tradition the judge and the prosecutors were also Jewish. No doubt the government thereby hoped to preclude any charge of anti-Semitism in acting out the unprecedented death sentence. It was not generally noted however, that the government made sure that those who would render the verdict itself, the jury, contained not a single Jew. But the law under which the Rosenbergs were tried called for a penalty of up to 30 years in prison or death. Once the jury gave interview with the judge in by Louis Shaefer, who has the trial for that paper. The Shaefer ends his story: "Upon said, 'Judge Kaufman, this was a pleasant afternoon for me personally and I am sure that all the readers of the Forward will be grateful to you for giving me this interview. At the same time, I would like to tell you that, while the Rosenbergs and the Sobells shame us, you and such a person as Irving Saypol deserves thanks for showing the world that there are also Jews of whom we can be proud.'

"This affords me great pleasure," the judge replied. "I was especially pleased when I read the same thought expressed in an editorial in last Saturday's Journal-American."

In the Jewish press there was a definite current of opinion that the severity of the sentence was owing to the judge's desire to bend over backwards to convince the country, and especially its anti-Semites, that not all Jews were "spies." M. Danzic, editor of the Daily Mirror, in an article in that paper on April 12, entitled, "Judge Kaufman and the Rosenbergs," said: "The Hearst Daily Mirror editorial cited above meant to the judge that 'Judge Kaufman and his Prosecutor Saypol should atone not only for the sins of the Rosenbergs, but of all other Jews. The death sentence imposed by Judge Kaufman left the feeling that precisely because he is a Jew, he did he go to an extreme and deal judgment with a heavy hand. This feeling flows from the experience which we often have with Jewish judges and with other Jews who occupy political positions.'" Danzic then recalls an experience he had with then Governor Herbert H. Lehman in the thirties. Nazi Bundsmen in Yorkville had terrorized Jewish business men into abandoning their businesses and Danzic visited the governor in Albany to plead with him to do something about the situation. Lehman quite frankly told Danzic that "because he is a Jew, it was difficult for him to take measures that someone else, a non-Jew, would apply. If I were to suppress the 'Nazi hoodlums in Yorkville,' said Lehman, 'they would say that I did it because I am a Jew, I therefore leave it to the mayor.'" Danzic concludes: "Therefore there is a suspicion that the fact and found it hard to catch our breath. We are certain that every Jew who read the sad news felt this way. From our hearts came the words, "Death sentence, too horrible!" Although the Forward agreed "one hundred per cent with what the judge said," it thought that the sentence should have taken account of its effect on the two small children and the old parents of the Rosenbergs. "Every Jewish home will be shattered by this tragedy," concluded the editorial.

DISAPPROVAL OF THE SENTENCE

Vigorous disapproval of the sentence was expressed also by the other Yiddish dailies, the Day and Morning Freiheit. (The Morning Journal, the only other Yiddish paper, had temporarily suspended publication at this time.) Nor could this disapproval be construed as a momentary emotional reaction. For we find that Forward editor Hillel Rogoff wrote on April 12, in an incredible rebuking article, that he disapproved the death sentence. In a second editorial on the case the Day said on April 8, that "We hope that a way will be found to set aside the death sentence." And in an article entitled "The Death Sentence Should be Changed," in the Day of April 16, H. Levik, one of the best-known living Yiddish poets and an intense anti-communist wrote: "I feel completely on the side of those who are saddened by the death sentence," primarily because Ethel Rosenberg was the mother of two small children and because of the old parents.

There is no doubt that behind this uneasiness that pervaded the Jewish community was a feeling that somehow anti-Semitism had operated. The country had had trials of a number of confessed traitors like Axis Sally and others; a number of alleged atomic spies were deemed more important than the Rosenbergs. Yet no one had received the death sentence until two East Side Jews were tried. Why?

This suspicion grows deeper and more ominous when it is considered, as this writer knows from his reading of the transcript of the trial, that the government did not prove its case beyond a reasonable doubt. Under our law, a defendant is considered innocent unless and until proven guilty. Are the Rosenbergs victims of a political frameup, as they have asserted without reservation from the first moment of their accusation until the present, when they sit in the shadow of the electric chair? While the self-confessed spies Ruth and David Greenglass got off with freedom and a 15-year sentence, respectively, because they involved the Rosenbergs, did the government seize upon the Rosenbergs for conviction and death because they were not only Jews, but also radical? Was the government here exploiting the case to advance anti-Communist hysteria by strengthening the "Jew-communist-atom spy" stereotype in the public mind? Some people may be shocked at this suggestion. But the Sacco-Vanzetti and Tom Mooney frameups, as well as Scottsboro and the routine frameups of countless Negroes are indisputable facts of history.

PRESSURES FOR A DEATH SENTENCE

The anti-Semitic effects of the trial are beyond conjecture. The lunatic fascist fringe exploited the conviction promptly. Anti-Semitic stickers about the Rosenbergs were seen in the Bronx. About ten days after the verdict, some thousands of cards were distributed on a construction job in Rochester, New York, blaming the Rosenbergs for the danger that the Soviet Union might rain atom bombs on this country. The Rosenbergs figure in the current line of the fascists that "The Jews Have Got the Atom Bomb," as a pamphlet distributed widely by Gerald L. K. Smith is called. In another pamphlet by Frank Britton entitled Atom Treason, the Jews David Lilienthal and Rear Admiral Lewis J. Was the death sentence imposed on Julius and Ethel Rosenberg caused in part by anti-Semitism? Judge Kaufman's actions and words in the "A-bomb spy trial" spell danger. This is the story of the man and wife now in Sing Sing's death house.

By LOUIS HARAP

A LOWERING cloud of anti-Semitism hangs over the death sentence of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg for alleged atomic espionage. Many people—not Jews alone—feel uneasy about it. The pronouncements of presiding Judge Irving Kaufman at the sentencing were especially disquieting and aroused sharp criticism in Jewish circles.

Over a period of months before Judge Kaufman passed the death sentence in April 1951, the public had been fed copiously with speculation whether death would be imposed in the case. Despite this apparent preparedness of the public, the sentence evoked a gasp of horror. There was a general feeling that the sentence was savage and vindictive. More especially, however, the Jewish community, and more specifically, the East Side of New York, where the Rosenbergs had lived, was stunned. This was registered most vehemently, strangely enough, in the obsessively anti-communist and Hearst-like Jewish daily Forward.

On April 6, 1951, the day following the sentencing, the Forward editorial, entitled "Too Horrible," began: "When we editors got the news that Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were sentenced to death, a shudder passed through all of

It has been said that no anti-Semitism intruded into the trial itself. But this is to overlook the fact that Irving Saypol, the Jewish prosecutor, did not permit a single Jew, of the 300 jurors in the panel, to sit on the jury. This, in a city that is one-third Jewish, is no accident. Irving Saypol, as is now widely known, was admonished by the Court of Appeals in August 1951, for his appeals to "racial prejudice" against a Jewish witness in the Remington case. In the Rosenberg case he was again guilty of "racial prejudice" when he did not consider a Jew to be a suitable juror. This is flagrant discrimination and an affront to the loyalty and devotion of the Jewish people to the best interests of the United States. It is a highly suspicious aspect of the government's an-

of the Judenrat, according to which Jews are used to persecute the Jewish people and to do the dirty work for anti-Semites.

For the judge's justification of the death sentence was based on one of the most preposterous reasons ever given in American jurisprudence for an extreme penalty. He embroidered Saypol's assertion that the Rosenbergs' "love of communism" led them to give the Russians "the one weapon that might well hold the key to the survival of this nation and the peace of the world—the atom bomb." In his unprecedented speech before delivering the death sentence, Judge Kaufman said: "I believe that your conduct in putting into the hands of the Russians the A-bomb years before our best scientists predicted Russia would perfect the bomb has already caused the Communist aggression in Korea with the resultant casualties exceeding 50,000 Americans, and who knows that but millions more of innocent people may pay the price of your treason. Indeed, by your betrayal you undoubtedly have changed the course of history to the disadvantage of our country."

This is hysteria run amuck. In the first place, the Rosenbergs should never have been convicted at all because their guilt had not been proved beyond reasonable doubt; second, according to the report of the Joint House-Senate Committee on Atomic Energy issued after the verdict, the Rosenbergs were judged by these experts to have been of secondary or even lesser importance in atomic espionage; and third, the best scientific opinion questioned whether the atomic bomb was much of a secret anyway. Yet the judge pin-pointed total responsibility for the future of the world on the Rosenbergs—a patently absurd and dangerously hysterical assertion.

1951, voiced this danger. "What we cannot understand in Judge Kaufman's speech when he issued the sentence," said the editorial, "is his association of the crime of the Rosenbergs with the lives of 50,000 with the American army in Korea. The crime of spying is great enough without this association. When they committed this crime, communist aggression in Korea had not yet even been conceived by the Communists in China or in Russia. To associate the name of the Rosenbergs with the losses in Korea at a time when fighting still continues there can lead to an intensification of the present hysteria in certain circles."

The editor of the Day, M. Danzic, carried this argument further in his article cited earlier. "It is not only the death penalty imposed by Judge Kaufman," wrote Mr. Danzic, "but also his entire interpretation of the trial, the interpretative speech that he gave to the jury, which left many people, and especially Jews with a feeling of bitterness." Recalling the judge's saddling of responsibility for 50,000 American casualties on the Rosenbergs, Danzic asks, "Are these the calm, thoughtful words of a jurist? This is the question asked not only by a Jew. One cannot ignore the Jewish aspect of this unfortunate tragic trial of the Rosenbergs. But this question was also asked by non-Jews."

Because all the principals in the trial were Jewish, Danzic goes on, "one must ask, has not Judge Kaufman, who is a Jew, grasped what a deadly, dangerous weapon he has by his statement to the jury placed in the hands of the enemies of the Jews in America and in the world? Did Judge Kaufman consider what would happen, for instance, if, God forbid, a third world war should break out and atom bombs should fall on New York, Washington and Los Angeles, and people would recall what the Jewish judge had said? It would then be easy to put the blame for the atomic war against America on the Rosenbergs and the others. . . . Where then did anti-Semitism into Judge Kaufman's consideration? Judge Kaufman wanted to those who would make anti-Semitism out of the fact that some atomic spies were Jewish by them that Jews were also 1500 Americans. If a Jew imposed extreme penalty on Jews for alleged crime, then the anti-Semites convinced that not all Jews were communist-atom spies." Judge Kaufman wanted to demonstrate New York Daily Mirror said on April 8 "Some bigots will three spies are Jews and will all Jews. ANTI-SEMITISM

Communists have faked a Jew-baiting issue in the Rosenberg case

BY OLIVER LITTON

HARDLY anybody is fooled nowadays by rabble rousers on the extreme right like Gerald L. K. Smith or John Rankin. Their combination of lies, illogic and venom is too well known, too often repudiated. The political patent medicine they peddle has a definitely limited market, no matter how violently it is packaged.

But the corresponding use of racism on the far left is more insidious. It can gain headway for lack of recognition. The stock in trade of the Communists, they tell us, is the defense of minority rights. They yell it in their press, at their meetings — even from the witness chair.

They yell it loudest, however, when they're exploiting it for Party propaganda.

That's what they're doing now by injecting a fake issue of anti-Semitism into their defense of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, the convicted atom spies sentenced to death for espionage.

This is the latest propaganda tactic with which the Communist Party hopes to lure the Jewish community to its support. In New York, in Chicago, and elsewhere, the public rallies, demonstrations and other mobilization devices of the Party are already in progress. The Communist theme is constant: The Rosenbergs are victims of anti-Semitism — convicted because they were Jews.

that a long list of atom spies, starting with Klaus Fuchs (a Lutheran) and Jews trying to destroy Christian civilization, he got the illogic treatment and bigoted tirade deserved. But in another matter when the Daily Worker, which pretends to combat anti-Semitism, took the Court of Appeals conviction of the Rosenbergs as a reflection on the Jews.

There must be joy in every Fascist heart at the thought that an American father and mother may be killed in the interests of the war and the Jew-hater.

It is settlement question which the editors of the Daily Worker have tackled with an illusion of anti-Semitism — their own creation.

They have been led by their own lies, something and something else. Perhaps the most insidious lie in the world is that of a Communist. The Jews are not the only people in the world who are Native Americans — they are also. The Communist Party has a long record of anti-Semitism. It has called for the lynching of Jews. It has called for the killing of Jews. It has called for the killing of Jews. It has called for the killing of Jews.

DISCRIMINATION in America began at Ellis Island. Newcomers from certain lands and that the essential hospitality of our immigration law is tainted with racial and religious prejudices. These laws were written originally so as to give preference to Protestants from northern Europe over Catholic southern Europe, to western over eastern Europeans, and the door was shut tight in the face of most Asians.

For years our immigration laws have situated as inferior good people eager to come and assume the responsibilities of citizenship. Consideration of foreign policy as well as of basic American civil rights demands the removal of discriminatory exclusions from our immigration laws.

Senate and House subcommittees have reported out omnibus immigration bills. (The McCarran bill, S. 2110, in the Senate, and Rep. Walter's (D-Pa.) bill, H.R. 1671.) In these 20-page bills there are several pages of important reforms. Asians are made eligible for immigration and citizenship, no discrimination is eliminated. But the great bulk of the provisions actually make them anti-immigration bills. They would drastically modify the historic welcome given to immigrants by our nation of immigrants. The bills contain more than 20 new grounds for deporting DP and other immigrants, 13 new grounds for excluding future immigrants and a great number of new ways of depriving a naturalized American citizen of his citizenship.

Senator Euse Kefauver (D-Tenn.) filed a minority report on the McCarran bill, stating "S. 2110 seems to proceed on the assumption that immigration is a source of strength but of weakness. Fear of ideas and fear of foreign faces have no place in American life."

The smooth progress with which these bills moved through Congress was finally checked the past few weeks. Many nationality groups in this country—Italians, Czech and Polish—have joined with church and civil liberties organizations to protest the discriminatory features of the bill. In the Senate, Lehman (D-N. Y.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) drafted a liberal immigration omnibus bill and were joined in its introduction by eleven other senators. The White House is understood to be opposed to the McCarran Bill and in favor of the Lehman-Humphrey Bill.

THE MUTUAL SECURITY BILL recommended by the White House to Congress contains a larger appropriation for aid to Israel than the one voted last year. John T. Wood (R-Ill.), a 73-year-old Irishman congressman, has become an avowed anti-Semitism belt for the lesser known anti-Semitic organizations. He writes for their publications and regularly inserts into the Congressional Record their attacks on the United Nations.

The dramatic crack-down by the FBI on Klan hoodlums, the conviction of Florida Klan chief Bill Kendrick for leading obscene and defamatory matter through the mails, have been telling blows struck against the pattern of bombings and shootings in Klan areas which have gone largely unreported by the national wire services.

Brooklyn of two men with Italian-sounding names on charges of possessing counterfeit bills does not prove that all Italians or all Brooklynites are counterfeiters. Rankin's effort to deposit atomic espionage at the door of Italian-Americans collapsed immediately. He would have had to produce counter-proof that all the groupings in modern America life the Jews today are among the least acceptable to Communism. Double-stake with a Rankin's waste of time.

On the other hand, taking anti-Semitism for purposes of exploitation or Communist tactics holds certain obvious dangers and the person with a genuine desire to combat discrimination and bigotry can be pulled by Communist hands.

There is only one way to guard against being fooled. That is to look behind the emotion and examine the facts.

The Daily Worker, in its anti-Semitic atmosphere, has framed the Rosenberg trial. This reporter emphatically disagrees. The Rosenbergs, I believe, were tried fair.

The weight of the evidence proved them guilty. The jury did not have to deliberate in judgment too long.

WAS THERE ANTI-SEMITISM? The trial judge was a Jew. The prosecutor was a Jew. The chief prosecution witness was a Jew. The issue of religion was introduced during the trial only by the defense.

In explaining his preference for a Jew over the United States, Julius Rosenberg recalled that Russia had taught Germany, which killed an million of my fellow Jews, and I felt deeply about that. This did not come with perfect grace from a man whose reputation of abhorrable finishing of a youth had he fell into the party hands broke his father's heart.

Anti-Semitism and the Atom Spy Trial

It is the most conclusive answer to the Communist propaganda that implies a mysterious prejudice operating to convict the Rosenbergs, not because they were espionage agents but because they were Jews.

In effect, the Communist tactic tells the Fascist fantasy of an inviolable conspiracy of international Jews who are alternately wealthy patrons and Communists. It's a case of both kinds seeking to exploit the Jewish community in the middle, all for political advantage.

Even if the Rosenbergs were innocent, it would still not prove anti-Semitism. Actually, the Communists have yet to produce a single shred of evidence of anti-Semitism in the case. They simply created the innuendo and then ignited the issue by constantly referring to it as another Drayfus case, or the American counterpart of the Jewish persecution that followed the Reichstag fire.

But while the Daily Worker is hounding for the Rosenbergs with both headlines on the ground that they were victimized for their political non-conformity, it has yet to explain to its readers why, throughout the course of the trial, it reported the story completely and failed to publish a single line of objection, incidentally, was evident in all the journals of similar political coloring.

For reasons known best to Party circles there was a complete blackout of news on the Rosenberg trial in the Communist press and not until the morning of March 10, 1951, the day after the verdict brought in the verdict of guilty and the Daily Worker offer any information to its readers—and then, the best it could manage was a three-sentence story.

As a matter of fact, the Communist didn't begin harping on the anti-Semitism issue until almost a year after the trial. The first big blast came in the January 1952 issue of Jewish Life, a Communist monthly. The article, written by one of the Rosenbergs' attorneys, stressed that the Rosenberg case was not a matter of anti-Semitism but of anti-Communism.

The article declared: "The death sentences were the result of the Rosenberg case, not the result of anti-Semitism. The Rosenberg case was a part of the anti-Communist drive against the death sentences against the Rosenberg case, not the result of anti-Semitism." The article also stated that the Rosenberg case was a part of the anti-Communist drive against the death sentences against the Rosenberg case, not the result of anti-Semitism.

What this really amounts to is a blackman imposed by the Communists on the Jewish community and a Jewish Smith case. The Communist Party is so afraid of anti-Semitism that it has even gone so far as to make a special effort to keep the Rosenberg case out of its own papers. The Communist Party is so afraid of anti-Semitism that it has even gone so far as to make a special effort to keep the Rosenberg case out of its own papers.

HEAVILY-POWERED COMMITTEE CALLS FOR JUSTICE IN ROSENBERG CASE

Dr. Joseph P. Kamp, well-known journalist and author, announced today that 175 American men and women from all over the United States, representing many occupations and professions, have joined with him in forming a national committee to secure justice in the Rosenberg Case.

The Rosenbergs, Ethel and Julius, were convicted in April, 1952, on a charge of "conspiracy to commit espionage" and sentenced to death. To this day they continue to assert their innocence. They are now in Sing Sing, a

The committee will call attention to the fact that the death sentences of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg had passed years in the leading Jewish press and other Jewish publications.

Dr. Kamp announced that a 50-page brochure "To Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case" has been distributed to members of the committee. The brochure is available to all who wish to receive it.

STATEMENT
NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO SECURE JUSTICE IN THE ROSENBERG CASE

Grave doubt exists as to the guilt of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, who, in April, 1951, were sentenced to die in the electric chair on charges of Espionage. The Rosenbergs, young parents of two small children, had pleaded innocent of all charges. Their appeal is now pending in the U.S. Court of Appeals - Second Circuit.

The Government's case against the Rosenbergs rests almost exclusively on the testimony of David Greenglass and his wife Ruth, who, according to their own statements, had committed espionage. By testifying against the Rosenbergs, David Greenglass escaped the death penalty and will be eligible for parole in eight years; Ruth Greenglass was never indicted and is free today.

It is a relevant fact, as revealed by the trial record of the case, that the alleged political opinions of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg were a major element in the case. Fear that the Rosenbergs were also victims of religious bigotry was expressed, immediately following the trial, by the leading Jewish press and by other newspapers in this country.

The severity of their sentence is unprecedented. A sentence of death rests, presumably, upon establishing guilt beyond reasonable doubt. Yet even in cases where no doubt existed as to the guilt of the accused, such as "Miss Sally" and "Tokyo Rose", sentences of only ten years were imposed.

In the Rosenberg case, the future of two young children, as well as the lives of their parents, are at stake. But beyond the fate of this family is the right of all people in this country to freedom of thought. This is another reason why we feel constrained to bring further light upon this extraordinary case. Can any of us, whatever our convictions or beliefs, continue to function if the holding of unpopular opinions should make us liable to unjust prosecution and even to the threat of death?

If you feel, as we do, that justice has yet to be satisfied in the case of the Rosenbergs, you can help in three ways:-

1. Join the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case.
2. Write us for further information, additional copies of this statement and other material on the case.
3. Contribute financially so that we can bring the facts in this case before our fellow citizens, and to assure funds for necessary legal expenses.

Veterans Protest Atom-Spy Rally

By HOWARD RUSHMORE

Formal protests against a rally scheduled for tomorrow in behalf of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Soviet atom bomb spies awaiting execution in Sing Sing, today were made by the Jewish War Veterans and the Catholic War Veterans.

Both groups lodged protests with the owners of Pythian Hall, 135 W. 70th st., assailing the meeting as fundamentally un-American and against the public interest.

It was learned that the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars were considering similar action.

A prepared speech by the spies will be read at the meeting called by the "Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case" with leading Communists—some of them jailbirds and publicly-named security risks—as speakers and sponsors.

How the Rosenbergs, whose espionage conviction was upheld last week by the Circuit Court of Appeals, were permitted to prepare their speech in Sing Sing was not explained by the committee.

Among the speakers scheduled are William L. Patterson and Mrs. Helen Sobell.

Patterson, an avowed Communist and for years a Chicago and Detroit organizer for the Reds, recently had his passport revoked by the State Department after Patterson had gone to Europe as a spokesman for international Communism.

Mrs. Sobell is the wife of Morton Sobell, convicted as a co-conspirator of the Rosenbergs in their trial last year.

Sponsors of tomorrow's meeting include:

Nelson Algren, a Chicago writer who has marched in local May Day parades; Dr. Edward K. Barsky who recently left a Federal penitentiary after serving a term for contempt of Congress

Also Hugh Mulzac, a former Merchant Marine captain formed by the Coast Guard a security risk and denied a ship; Herbert Aptheker, an avowed Communist writer and others with local records of Communist front affiliation.

Warn of Reds' Strategy:

Meeting Hailing Spies Held Despite Protest

By HOWARD RUSHMORE

Members of B'nai B'rith, the largest Jewish organization in the United States, have been warned that the Communists are using the conviction of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg to further subversive activities in this country.

Regional offices of the organization, which has 250,000 members, have been alerted by the Anti-Defamation League, the educational section of B'nai B'rith.

Four veteran organizations resolved to fight further "defense" rallies held on behalf of the two atom bomb spies now awaiting the electric chair.

1,200 AT MEETING.

Officials of the Jewish War Veterans were present as observers at Pythian Hall, 135 W. 70th st., last night where 1,200 persons cheered speakers who portrayed the Rosenbergs as "great Americans."

The meeting was held despite protests by the JMW, the Catholic War Veterans, the American Legion and the VFW.

Emanuel Goldstein, manager of Pythian Hall, said after he heard speakers denounce the government and its judges:

"We won't have these people here again."

Chief target of the speakers was Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who last year sentenced the Rosenbergs and their co-conspirator, Morton Sobell. The latter spy received 30 years.

Helen Sobell, his wife, told the audience that she spoke for the Rosenbergs and her husband when she said "We are proud, for we haven't betrayed our ideals or our friends."

Other speakers identified by Congress as sponsors or members of Communist-front organizations included Albert Kahn, Miss Vae Kluck and Joseph Brainin.

Rally for Atom Spies Protests Treason Doom

About 1000 persons attended a rally here last night protesting the treason convictions of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, atom-bomb spies now under death sentence.

The rally was held by "The Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case" at Pythian Hall, 135 W. 70th St. The committee said it would telegraph a demand to President Truman "not to contest the defense's appeal for a reversal of the verdict and a new trial when the case is brought before the U.S. Supreme Court."

Mrs. Morton Sobell, whose husband received 30 years for complicity in the case, said: "We're proud because we have not betrayed our ideals or our friends." The rally had been attacked in advance by the Jewish War Veterans, the Catholic War Veterans, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, but there was no picketing.

JULIUS ROSENBERG and his wife Ethel, residents of the East Side of New York and parents of two young children, were convicted some months ago of espionage and are now in the death house.

Recently the Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the verdict against them.

After plowing through volumes of the evidence presented in this tragic case, I am not convinced, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the Rosenbergs are guilty.

Of one thing I am sure. Had this trial been conducted at the time, or shortly after, the alleged crime was committed in 1944-45 when the U. S. and Russia were allies, the result would have been different.

It is quite possible, and very disturbing to me, that the hapless Rosenberg couple may have been victimized by the anti-Communist hysteria which has been sweeping this country with deadly effect.

Significant

In view of the populous Jewish community of New York, it is significant that although, or shall I say, because, the prosecuting attorney in the case, Irving Saypol, is himself a Jew, not one member of the jury was Jewish.

The accusers and key figures in this case were David Greenglass, brother of Mrs. Julius Rosenberg, and his wife Ruth. They were self-confessed spies. Mrs. Greenglass, an important witness against the Rosenbergs, was not even arrested. She got off scot-free. Her husband David, who admitted he committed the actual theft of secret military information and was the chief witness against his own sister and her husband, was sentenced to 15 years, which means that he will be free in seven or eight years. The Rosenbergs, who pleaded innocent, were convicted and sentenced to death.

A Deal?

It is not difficult to believe that a deal was made by the Greenglasses to save their own necks by implicating the Rosenbergs. This opinion is reinforced by the fact that a bitter business feud existed between David Greenglass and his brother-in-law, Julius Rosenberg, in the course of which the two almost came to blows.

There is at least a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the Rosenbergs. The presiding Justice, Irving Kaufman, thought there was no reasonable doubt, and sentenced the Rosenbergs to death.

A reading of the testimony tends to show, as claimed by A. and E. H. Block, defense attorneys, that at times the judge could and favored the Government's witness, while he was hostile to the witnesses of the defense.

The harsh sentence that was pronounced, however, is unprecedented in the history of this country. Never has the death penalty been imposed by a United States Court for espionage in the time of peace. Other convicted atomic spies in this country and England in recent years received comparatively light penalties. Tokyo Rose, Axis Bally and others guilty of treason, were sentenced to a few years in prison.

On the spot, why did Judge Kaufman in this case impose the extreme penalty? Did he, being Jewish feel that he was "on the spot" because he was dealing with Jewish defendants? Did he think that the death sentence against the Rosenbergs was necessary to counteract the anti-Semitic charge of Communism against Jews in general? Apparently, the jurist has not learned that anti-Semitism has nothing to do with the truth. The fact that the vast majority of Jews are anti-Communist, the fact that it is impossible for a self-styled Jew to be sympathetic to a Red mill, and that the very nature of the difference between the Jew and the fascist is that the Jew is

The evidence that the judge, although the Rosenbergs were not charged with Communism, and that charge was not part of the indictment, the prosecution made strenuous attempts to make that label an issue. Although no legal proof was presented, there is no doubt that the fact of Communism against the Rosenbergs was firmly fixed in the minds of the jurors. The judge's conduct was not a fair trial. According to the spirit of the law, Kaufman announced that before passing sentence he went to synagogue to take counsel with his conscience and his God. That is a very serious matter. But he should have gone to the law and had his mind on his own. He should have said that the Jewish tradition and the Jewish law, which was promulgated at Sinai and through the 7000 years of Jewish punishment, was so strong that according to the tradition, when the death sentence was pronounced by the Sanhedrin, the Jewish Supreme Court, once within a period of 27 years, the Rabbi pronounced the judges of the court as murderers. This refers to cases even where there was no reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant. It is all the more applicable to the Rosenberg case in which there appears to be a reasonable doubt of guilt for the crime charged.

Practically
 According to the great Judge Kaufman announced that before passing sentence, he went to a synagogue to take counsel with his conscience and his God.

That was a pretty gesture. But he should have gone to the Talmud. Had he done so, he would have learned something that might have been helpful in this case. He would have found that Jewish tradition has always been unalterably opposed to the death penalty, which was condemned as barbaric and inhuman. The opposition to the capital punishment was so strong that, according to the Talmud, when the death sentence was pronounced by the Sanhedrin, the Jewish Supreme Court once within a period of 30 years the Rabbis denounced the Judges of the Court as "murderers." This refers to cases even when there was no reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendants. Persons really anxious to save the lives of the Rosenbergs should rally to get the convicted atom-bomb spies to confess the full story of their espionage. For only if Julius and Ethel Rosenberg talk can they save their lives. They have 60 days now—and 60 days more, after the U. S. Supreme Court rejects their final appeal—in which to get a reduction in sentence, by making full disclosure. Whether they die for Russia or live for their children therefore is up to the Rosenbergs alone.

T. S. Eliot, the Nobel Prizewinning poet and playwright, once attended a boarding school in Massachusetts. He was a shy, well-behaved boy at school. Eliot, in fact, was such a shy student that he recently received a letter from one of the school's officials, who pointed out that Eliot was one of the few boys who never had carved his initials anywhere on the premises. The official suggested that if Eliot now would sketch the kind of carving he liked, they would be glad to have someone do it for him now.

The Fake Issue

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were found guilty of atomic espionage and sentenced to death. Nothing that happened at their trial raised serious public doubt about their guilt. Even the Communist press seemed undecided for many weeks whether to take the view that they were innocent or that they were just trying to promote world "unity" by sharing America's secrets with Russia or, finally, that the secrets were trivial anyway.

Now, belatedly and after some rewriting of the history of the trial, a thinly-veiled Communist front known as the Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case is staging a shrill campaign to prove it was all a monstrous "frame-up" and to "force" the Supreme Court to upset the verdict. In the course of this campaign the committee has raised the synthetic cry that anti-Semitism motivated the prosecution, the trial judge (Irving Kaufman) and the Appeals Court which, in an opinion written by Judge Frank, upheld the verdict and sentence.

Reasonable men may, it seems to us, debate the wisdom of the death penalty. Convicted Axis agents were punished with prison sentences; there may be a question as to whether the nature of the Rosenbergs' crime—the transmission of atomic data—was sufficiently greater to warrant execution. But that is not the way the issue is being pleaded by the Rosenberg committee. The injection of the fake charge of anti-Semitism is a calculated and loathsome attempt to confuse the true issues and poison the American air.

The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and other Jewish groups have vigorously assailed the Communist propaganda campaign. The Rosenbergs are Americans who were convicted of betraying their country; like any human beings caught in the web of treason, they are tragic and wretched figures. But the effort to bestow a last-minute martyrdom upon them is a hollow Communist show. By thrusting false religious issues into the case, the Communists are inflaming the prejudices they profess to den-

SAVE THE ROSENBERGS!

NO THOUGHTFUL AMERICAN

could have remained unmoved by the recent U.S. Appeals Court decision and the Rosenberg case. And no thoughtful American could have expressed a feeling of horror and a surge of tragic memory. For this decision unanimously upholding the death sentence pronounced on Julius and Ethel Rosenberg by Judge Irving Kaufman was acclaimed most strikingly with another decision—the decision to stream-bomb the Western European under a lightning bolt. One is moved so become more than factual, more than precise, more than objective in such a situation. When six million Jews died under the monstrous heel of fascism, their cry of pain did not immediately cease. Rather did it mingle with the smell of burning flesh, and linger—the hurt so enormous and so indescribable that forgetfulness in itself became a crime. Neither comprehension nor revenge is applicable in terms of justice. It is not my plan to purpose here to review the facts of the Rosenberg case. They have been amply reviewed, indeed splendidly and boldly reviewed by William A. Reuben in the series of articles he wrote for the National Guardian. In printing these articles and taking up the banner of these two persecuted, maligned and innocent human beings, the National Guardian rendered a unique and profoundly memorable service to the best traditions of American journalism. paper investigated in such detail and established with such a weight of evidence, the innocence of two people convicted of a crime.

One must ask whether it would be humanly possible or even inferentially possible, that innocence so plain, so evident, so permanent, could have remained unknown to the executive branch of the government which inspired the prosecution, to Irving Saypol who carried through the prosecution, to Judge Kaufman who pronounced the sentences of death, or the three judges of the Court of Appeals who upheld these death sentences? This question must be asked for only through the placing of this question can the whole and hideous nature of the Rosenberg case be seen.

ARE the Jewish people in America so blind, so forgetful, so dulled to the meaning of history that they themselves will not ask certain questions? Can they avoid asking why a Jewish prosecutor and a Jewish judge were assigned to this case? Can they avoid asking why the first peace-time death sentence for espionage in all the history of the United States was reserved for these two people who are Jews?

Can they avoid asking why this death sentence was pronounced for an alleged espionage in favor of a country which was not only our ally in the Second World War, but to the valor of whose troops thousands and thousands of American soldiers owe their very lives?

If American Jews cannot and do not ask these questions, if they are willing to accept, with all its hideous implications, this terrible, judicial murder of two innocent, brave and good people, then indeed one can only hang one's head with shame and look into the future with fear and misgiving. For it would mean that the great mass of the Jewish people in America have chosen implicitly to accept the role which fascism historically reserves for Jewish people everywhere and which has been shared by Jews wherever fascism triumphed.

However, I do not and cannot believe that the Jewish masses of America will accept the decision on the Rosenberg case in any such manner. Plainly and specifically, I make the following proposition for our consideration:

It would seem to me that there was a most deliberate choice in this case of the Rosenberg. Consider the whole pattern again. An ex-prosecutor, a lawyer who has roomed in the same apartment building as the Shoenholme, a Beat for David Greenglass. Under the counseling of Greenglass confess to espionage and implicate the Rosenbergs. We have a good reason to believe that immediately after their arrest the Rosenbergs had no knowledge of what crime they had been charged with or why they were arrested. Then the Jewish prosecutor is chosen. The case is tried amidst the worst bywords and jingoism of the first part of the Korean war. The Jewish judge makes the incredible statement that be continued with God before passing the death sentence. The Jewish community is told, "See it is one of your own members who sentences these two to death." In his sentencing, the judge charges Julius and Ethel Rosenberg with responsibility for the Korean war. The compounded insanity becomes diabolically sane, and all over America Jews sense the implication of the new order, thus:

"For the Jewish people, as for the Negro people, death will be the doorway for the struggle for peace."

This to me is the content and the purpose of the Rosenberg case. All too little has been made of it, both here and in other lands. It is a case with profound implications for all the people of all the earth, and with very special and immeasurably tragic implications for the Jewish people everywhere, and most of all of course for the five million Jewish people of the United States.

IN A SPECIAL way, the Rosenberg case defines the epoch we live in. Through the Rosenberg case the Truman administration squarely and undisguisably uses the death penalty for those who stand in opposition to it. More subtly, perhaps, than Adolph Hitler proceeded, more cleverly, perhaps, but with the same tactic, the Truman administration seeks to inflame and scintillate.

I do not say that this is Germany in 1933. This is America in 1952, and for that very reason our image of American people will have been the crime and the strength to say, "Ethel and Julius Rosenberg cannot and shall not die!"

It is time we learned that we live in a period when the human race is divisible. There are no more strangers to mankind. The Rosenbergs have been offered up by the men of war, the men of death, the lords of the atom, the lords of pain or greed or hunger and of destruction. If one has grace, a conscience, then one's own flesh and blood will burn, and particularly will those of us who are Jews have committed the heinous crime of breaking faith with all of the holy dead who fought against and who died fighting against the monster of fascism.

The Rosenberg case is a direct appeal to the Supreme Court. We urge the readers to support the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, 246 Fifth Ave., New York City, Chairman of the committee, Joseph Blainin, has declared: "The decision of the Special Court must arouse all Americans to protect themselves, human and legal rights by supporting efforts to reverse the conviction and the very death sentence for alleged espionage and treason by U.S. Civil Courts."

Anti-Defamation League Calls Turn

The Communist party, self-proclaimed champion of minorities, was accused of creating anti-Semitism this week by one of the nation's leading Jewish organizations set up to combat it.

The accusation stemmed from the CP's nationally organized campaign to win sympathy for Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, the convicted atom spies sentenced to death for espionage in behalf of Russia.

'A Kind of Blackmail.'

For propaganda purposes, the party deliberately manufactured false evidence that the Rosenbergs

Vienna Farley on Children Sings Soviet Tune

This column last week ventured a bold prediction. To wit: that the International Conference in Defense of Children, about to convene in Vienna, would wind up as a Soviet propaganda thumping board to beat the democracies into a pulp.

Confirmation came gratifyingly fast.

The United States delegation promptly submitted—for worldwide consumption—what it called "a number of brilliantly conceived and carefully documented reports" on the plight of the child in the U.S.

The reports ran the gamut of Daily Worker nonsense.

"Perversely enough," concluded the U.S. delegates, who thus far have remained anonymous, it is in the name of preventive war that war preparations are being made in the United States. Under the pretext of protecting our children, we are being asked to support a program that menaces our children's very lives."

How Silly Can They Get?

Two gems caught our particular fancy.

One was aimed at proving the existence of universal discrimination against kids in America. "In some states," the American participants reported gravely, "there are laws calling for officially segregated schools for the deaf, dumb, blind and mentally defective." (They evidently meant rehabilitation training schools for the handicapped.)

The second example of horrible injustice appeared as a footnote to a harangue against air-raid drills in the schools here:

"In some schools teachers have been punishing children who misbehave by making them sit near windows. The children are informed that this is the most dangerous place to be during an atomic bomb raid."

How ridiculous can you get? Not too ridiculous to satisfy Uncle Joe.

Spy's Wife Faints at Rally Heckling

A meeting in behalf of two convicted atom spies was broken up last night by an unidentified man whose sarcastic remarks led to the collapse of the principal speaker and a spectator.

It happened in the Hotel Genadeen, 271 Beach 19th St., Far Rockaway, where about 75 persons were attending a session sponsored by the Rockaway branch of the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case.

Sobell's Wife Is Speaker.

Julius Rosenberg, 32, and his wife, Ethel, 35, are in Sing Sing awaiting execution for conspiracy to commit espionage. They were members of a spy ring through which British scientist Klaus Fuchs got atomic information to Russia.

Morton Sobell, 34, also is in Sing Sing serving a 30-year sentence for the same offense. His wife was the principal speaker at last night's meeting.

He Speaks, She Faints.

Mrs. Sobell referred to "unclean witnesses doing their tricks" at the trial, adding that "the judge is now waiting for the dead bodies of the Rosenbergs to use as a stepping stone." She said that "as the way Hitler started—"by persecuting the Jews with Jewish judges."

After she finished, and some money had been collected, a well-dressed, middle-aged man arose and charged that "the whole thing is a stage show."

He wanted to know why the committee had waited a whole year after the sentencing of the Rosenbergs before starting the movement for a new trial.

Mrs. Sobell Fainted.

Shouts, Collapses.

"Pay no attention to that!" the man shouted. "She'll always faint when something like this happens. She's a wonderful actress!"

Another man in the audience then got to his feet, cried "Oh, my God!" placed his hand to his heart and collapsed.

A third man fell over a chair in the excitement.

The man who had caused all this flurry hurried out of the room and ran down the street before anyone could learn who he was.

Rosenbergs Get Delay On Spy Death Appeals

Washington, D. C., April 30 (AP)—Justice Robert Jackson of the Supreme Court today gave Julius and Ethel Rosenberg until June 7 to file appeals from their convictions for giving America's atomic secrets to Russia.

The Rosenbergs, convicted in Federal Court in New York, are under death sentences. Jackson's action granted them a 30-day extension from the normal time for the filing of their appeals.

Have Until June 7.

Jackson also gave Morton Sobell until June 7 to file an appeal from his conviction in the same case. Sobell was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

The extensions may mean that the Supreme Court will not act on the three appeals until its new term beginning Oct. 6. The court plans to end its present term some time in June.

Fined for Giving Out Leaflets on Rosenberg Case

The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case has announced it will appeal the arrests, convictions and fines levied against two persons who were distributing an eight-page leaflet on the case, on their way to the Fourth Anniversary celebration of Israel's independence on the evening of April 30.

"We do not believe that it is within the province of the Police Department to interfere with the lawful efforts to make the facts in the Rosenberg Case being suppressed available to the public," the committee stated. "We shall therefore appeal the convictions and fines levied in the Snyder Ave. Magistrate's Court in Brooklyn before Magistrate Maglio."

The two persons were arrested near Ebbets Field, and fined $25 each, $15 for allegedly violating a Department of Sanitation regulation and $10 for "disorderly conduct."

Other groups, including the Zionist Revivalists, were also distributing material to the arriving celebrants, and the Jewish National Fund was soliciting contributions.

The Committee also announced that at a public meeting in Newark, N. J., called on a few days notice to raise fund for legal expenses, 100 persons contributed over $1,100 and pledged themselves to work untiringly for a new trial for the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell.

Report Hate Drive Against Rosenbergs

Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, who were convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage, have become prime targets of anti-Semitic propaganda, the Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case charged yesterday.

The committee cited letters which it said were being distributed through the mails, one of which reads in part, "Build a strong wailing wall with four sides and put dear little mammala and papala Rosenberg in the big middle of this wailing wall in Sing Sing and let them wall and wall and wall."

The same letter was said to ask, "What does the Jews do in return" for being "permitted" to live in the United States? "He is without exception the spy, the Saboteur, 'Commies,' Left Wingers, Infiltrators, hate mongers and all around trouble makers. To maintain their hideous presence in this country they are the amateur!"

The committee said it also has a sticker which is being circulated in Boston, asking, "Why do you think the long list of JEWISH Marxists (whose names are: Rosenberg, Greenglass, Sobell, Gold, Weisbaum, et al, daily appear in newspaper headlines betray our atomic secrets...?" The sticker, unsigned, calls for action against Jews, the committee said.

A letter, distributed by the "Patriots," Washington, D. C., and sent through the mails, advocates death for the Rosenbergs' attorney and threatens any Supreme Court justice who might vote for a new trial in the case.

The Atom Spies—Who, Why, When

Timely Book About the Communist Conspirators

THE ATOM SPIES. By Oliver Pilat. Putnam. 312 pp., $3.50.

By GILBERT CANT
Critic, Author

It is even truer today than it was in Biblical days that there is "none so blind as those that will not see," for the simple reason that nowadays there is more to see. Among the attractions peculiar to our age are atom bombs, and atomic spies, and native Americans trying like mad to sell out the country which has given them every gift in its power, and finally, the first civilians in the nation's history sentenced to death for treason.

Surely all this is so easy to see that even the most extreme mental myopia should not blur it. But perhaps because it is all so alien to American traditions, perhaps because of the very enormity of the faithfulness of ingrates, far too many Americans are still blind to the facts.

If any one doubts this, let him ask his fellow pinochle or poker players what is the current status of the proceedings against Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were sentenced to death only 13 short months ago. I will wager that not one "informed" American out of five knows the answer.

Granted this background of national incredulity and see-nothingness, Oliver Pilat's book should serve as a lighthouse for any whose minds are not closed by prejudice. If it seems less dramatic than the agonized first-person stories of penitent spies, I think it gains an air of conviction from that fact.

Oliver Pilat never was a Communist (he might have hit the jackpot if he had); on the contrary, he was in the vanguard of politically alert Americans who, in the 1930s saw the menace of Red totalitarianism when most of us were oblivious to any but the Blackshirt and Brownshirt varieties.

For years, both as a reporter for this newspaper and as an active member of the Newspaper Guild of New York (which was then Communist-dominated), Pilat did his best to arouse his colleagues and countrymen to what he clearly saw as a clear and present danger. He had less success than he deserved. Now, in this book, he is trying again. I hope he has better success this time.

Technically, the book is not perfect. It shows signs of haste, so that the complex overlapping in time and interweaving in space of a dozen or more atomic spies are not as neatly sorted out as most readers might wish.

But that is far less important than the fact that Pilat has done an immense amount of research, not only into the who and what, but into the why and wherefore, of America's atom spies. Since the phenomenon is so little recognized, let alone understood, this was a job that needed to be done.

Because most loyal Americans simply cannot grasp the mental processes of spies or traitors, they tend to shut out the very facts of espionage and treason. Pilat digs deep, and as close to the roots of treason as any but a Freudian analyst could. (And no body would understand what a Freudian analyst would have to say about it, anyway.)

On the strength of his own interviews and inquiries, Pilat shows us the home backgrounds of such spies as Harry Gold, David Greenglass, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. He shows how each was thwarted or frustrated in some way which may seem trivial to others differently situated, but which was of unsurpassable importance to the characters themselves.

In the case of Gold, Pilat gives a fascinating insight into a pitiful double life, in which imaginary children had imaginary illnesses and imaginary triumphs. Much of this was never brought out even in the trials, and has not been published before.

Most of the defendants in the American cases so far have been of Jewish extraction. Except for a few professional anti-Semites, not too much emphasis has been put on this fact. But it raises a grave question: to what extent was American society as a whole responsible for the twisted development of these transgressors, by its failure to integrate them properly into its own structure?

And despite the restraint which most of the American press has shown in handling the spies' background, the conscienceless pro-Communist press has not hesitated to raise the cry of anti-Semitism where there had been virtually none. This, too, Pilat brings out with great clarity and without belaboring the moral to be drawn.

There is a great deal in this book which many people who consider themselves competent citizens never bothered to learn in the first place, and much that others have forgotten. The book is a timely and valuable reminder. And by the way, the answer to the question above is that the Rosenbergs are still in Sing Sing death-house, awaiting an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Protests Rally for Anti-Red League

The American Jewish League Against Communism, through its executive director, Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, today objected to a rally scheduled for the night of June 17, in the Brooklyn Academy of Music by the "so-called Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg (atom spies) Case."

The league wired the Academy in "protest against lending its auditorium" to this meeting. It also said it wired Rabbi Louis D. Gross of Brooklyn, editor of a Hebrew publication, and a reputed sponsor of the rally, urging him to disassociate himself from it. The league claims the rally has been called "to stir up agitation."

"This committee," the league stated, "has been denounced by major Jewish organizations for following the Communist line that the conviction of the atom spies was somehow due to anti-Semitism."

 To Arouse Sympathy for Treasonists

The Brooklyn Jewish Community Council today condemned a rally called by the "Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case," charging that injection of the "false issue" of anti-Semitism in the defense of the two convicted atom spies was "Communist-inspired."

Dr. Arthur J. S. Rosenbaum, executive director of the council, which represents 850,000 Jewish organizations, urged all Brooklynites to "reject the spurious issue" and boycott the rally, scheduled for next Tuesday evening at the Academy of Music.

to inject a false issue of anti-Semitism into the Rosenberg case.

Efforts Condemned

"We condemn these efforts to mislead the people of this country by the un-supported charge that the religious ancestry of the defendants was a factor in this case. We denounce this fraudulent effort to confuse and manipulate public opinion for ulterior political purposes. We are confident that the people of Brooklyn will overwhelmingly reject this spurious issue."

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were convicted of treason for transmitting atomic secrets to Russia. They are now in the Sing Sing death house awaiting execution.

Rosenbaum said that the Committee was using the claim that the Rosenbergs were convicted because they were Jews for "ulterior political purposes."

Joining in the denunciatory statement were the American Jewish Committee, American Jewish Congress, B'nai B'rith, Anti-Defamation League, Jewish War Veterans, Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the National Community Relations Advisory Council.

Rosenberg Meeting Barred, Is Shifted

A public meeting on the Rosenberg case, set for tonight at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, was scheduled for another hall late yesterday after the Academy had cancelled its contract with the sponsors as the admitted result of a campaign of pressure.

The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, which has been leading a campaign in behalf of the New York couple under death sentence on conviction of espionage conspiracy, announced the meeting would be held instead at the Biltmore, 3230 Church Ave., Brooklyn.

The committee had obtained an order from Justice Keogh in Brooklyn Supreme Court, requiring the Academy management to show cause this morning why it should the Rosenberg case and "Communist-inspired." The Eagle editorially associated itself with this blast at the meeting.

Swin told THE COMPASS that the cancellation had been voted by the trustees of the city-owned Academy on the basis of attacks on the meeting and demands for denial of the hall, but he declined to identify the sources of these demands, except for an allusion to a story in the Eagle last week.

This, however, mentioned only the Jewish Community Council and groups affiliated with it. A spokesman for the Council told THE COMPASS that that organization had never asked for cancellation of the hall and said that its statement, while severely critical of the sponsoring committee, had not "even" urged a boycott of the meeting, although the Eagle editorial interpreted the statement as a call for a boycott.

In obtaining its show cause order, the Rosenberg committee charged that the Academy had 26 days to act but gave the sponsors only one day's notice, that it knew from the outset what the meeting was about, and that it reported receiving protests three weeks ago but showed no intention of doing anything about them.

not be required to honor its contract, but it was indicated this action will be dropped in view of the hiring of another hall. A spokesman said the committee felt it had a solid case, but that its primary concern was that the meeting proceed on schedule.

The contract for the Academy of Music was dated May 21. The cancellation notice, mailed Friday, was received by the sponsors yesterday morning.

H. T. Swin, managing superintendent, wrote that the cancellation was based on the protest of "reputable organizations" that had been using the hall, and "also the news and editorial protest of the Brooklyn Eagle." He referred to "the animus which has been aroused" and wrote that "the purposes and aims of the Brooklyn Institute, which controls the Academy, would be damaged by such a meeting on its premises."

The Eagle has been heavily attacking the scheduled meeting. Last week it prominently displayed a statement by the Brooklyn Jewish Community Council calling anti-Semitism a "false issue" in

Academy of Music Bars A-Spy Rally

Affair Shifted to Flatbush Site —Leftists Assail Eagle Editorial

A rally on behalf of the convicted atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, scheduled to be held at the Brooklyn Academy of Music tonight, was switched to the Biltmore, 2230 Church Ave., after permission to use the Academy had been withdrawn.

Robert E. Blum, president of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, which operates the Academy of Music, said in a statement:

"On the basis of information in an editorial in the Brooklyn Eagle on June 13 and similar information from other sources, we believed the proposed rally would be detrimental to the Academy and withdrew permission for its use."

Earlier, the Communist Daily Worker had charged the Academy "broke its contract" with the rally sponsors, "reporting pressure by the Brooklyn Eagle."

Thackrey Joins In

A similar story appeared in the leftist Daily Compass, and the publisher of that paper, Ted C. Thackrey, in a signed editorial charged the Academy acted "at the last moment, after a violent attack upon the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg case by the Brooklyn Eagle and by other self-appointed guardians of our commonwealth."

The Eagle on June 17 published the fact that the Brooklyn Jewish Community Council, representing 850 borough Jewish organizations, had condemned the rally, charging that injection of the "false issue" of anti-Semitism in the defense of the Rosenbergs had been "Communist-inspired."

In its editorial the following day the Eagle noted that the

The Brooklyn Jewish Community Council statement labeled the attempts "to inject the false issue of anti-Semitism" as "efforts to mislead the people" and a "fraudulent effort to confuse and manipulate public opinion for ulterior political purposes."

Doom of Rosenbergs Blamed on Race Bias

Charges that anti-Semitism was behind the death sentence of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted atom spies, were voiced last night at a rally of the Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs, held at the Biltmore, 2230 Church Ave. Protests by leaders of 850 borough Jewish organizations had led to withdrawal of the meeting from the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

The Brooklyn Jewish Community Council declared, however, that the "Communist-inspired" rally was raising the false issue of anti-Semitism for "fraudulent" purposes. Included among organizations joining in this view were the American Jewish Committee, the American Jewish Congress, B'nai B'rith Anti-Detamation League and the Jewish War Veterans.

A turbulent crowd of more than 1,000 heard speakers at the rally declare that the trial of the Rosenbergs, now awaiting execution at Sing Sing, and of Morton Sobell, sentenced to 15 years imprisonment, was a "travesty of justice" based solely on anti-Semitism.

Albert Kahn, one of the principal speakers, declared that "some so-called Jewish leaders have branded our efforts to save the Rosenbergs as Communistic . . . As traitors to the Jewish people they should be marked with the brand of Cain."

Kahn, "anti-fascist writer" and president of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order, on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations, charged that the Rosenberg death sentences were "the first sacrifices in this country on the altar of war." He added, to the accompaniment of a roaring ovation from the floor: "We do not intend to fight another."

Mrs. Helen Sobell, wife of Morton Sobell, in a trembling, small voice argued that "unclean witnesses told their story before a prosecutor who is now a judge (Supreme Court Justice Irving H. Saypol), and before a judge (Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman), who wants to use the bodies of the Rosenbergs as a stepping stone . . ."

Rabbi Meyer Sharff of Temple Anshe Pkeitel in Williamsburg, attired in traditional rabbinical orthodox dress and speaking in Yiddish, blamed "a judge who was a Jew with an inferiority complex."

Of himself Rabbi Sharff said: "No one can accuse me of being a Communist. During the Revolution in Russia, they shot my 16-year-old boy because he was the son of a bourgeois."

"Gross doubts as to the guilt of the Rosenberg" were expressed by Joseph Brainin, chairman of the committee, who called the trial "an infringement of American justice."

The Rev. Dr. Reginald H. Bass of the Central Community Church of Brooklyn, said that the right of free speech had been challenged by the press. A crescendo of hisses greeted the mention of the Brooklyn Eagle.

Gloria Agrin, attorney, said the Rosenbergs were convicted because they were for peace and progress and as a warning to all those who hold the same ideas.

The speaker, who represented Dr. W. K. B. Dutton when he was tried and acquitted on charges of being a foreign agent in the Stockholm Peace Petition campaign, asked her audience:

"Is this a reason to sentence people to death?"

"They are innocent. This frameup could have taken place in Nazi Germany." She concluded with the assertion that "the Rosenbergs and Sobell are noble people."

Other speakers were Rabbi Dr. Abraham Cronbach, professor emeritus of Hebrew Union College, and president of the Jewish Peace Fellowship; Yuri Suhl, Yiddish novelist; Mrs. Roscoe Mitchell, sister of Gail, English, one of the "Trenton Six," and Prof. Ephraim Cross of C. C. N. Y., who assailed "the double standard of justice."

Vultures and Victims

By Max Lerner

I witnessed something on Tuesday night that stirred me both to anger and to compassion. I went to Flatbush, to the meeting held by the so-called Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg case. The meeting was run and dominated by the Communists, and my anger was at the cynicism with which they exploited the emotions of good people for an evil cause. My compassion was for the people who came to the meeting, almost all of them Jewish residents of Brooklyn, not knowing that the Communist clique, who ran the meeting, cared no more for the Rosenbergs than they had once cared for the Alters and Ehrlichs who had been murdered by the Russian Commissars.

The case of the atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, is one of almost unrelieved ugliness and degradation; during the whole Flatbush meeting one listened in vain for a single hard fact that would cast a serious doubt on their guilt. The speakers stressed that those on whose testimony the Rosenbergs were convicted had betrayed the close ties of blood. It is a true fact, and a shattering one. Yet it is a sword that cuts both ways. David Greenglass could not have sent his sister to her doom unless she had involved him in a real conspiracy to steal atom secrets for the Russians.

Albert Kahn made the collection speech. He read a message from the Rosenbergs and when he got to the payoff sentences his eyes filled with tears and his words stuck in his throat. A heap of five and ten dollar bills, and hundreds of dollar bills came to the platform, $3,500 worth.

Yet I do not think the primary purpose of the meeting was to milk these people of their greenbacks. The main purpose was to spread the Communist legend that the American Government is anti-Semitic.

I am fed up with that legend, and with the efforts of the Communist clique to exploit the fears and sensitivities of American Jews. The note was struck in Rosenberg's letter from prison. "We are as innocent of espionage and treason," he wrote, "as were our 6,000,000 brothers and sisters who were put to death in the gas chambers of Europe." The same note was repeated in almost every speech. It is time that someone called the lie that it is. What has happened to the Rosenbergs had nothing to do with their being Jewish.

The climax of the evening was a speech by a little orthodox Rabbi, Meyer Sharff, of Williamsburg. He wore a skull cap and a long black coat with prayer shawl under it and a magnificent growth of beard. He was the prize catch of the cynical men who ran the meeting. He spoke in Yiddish with long Hebrew quotations from the Holy Books. No one could accuse him, he said, of being a Communist—and the crowd laughed. The reason, he explained, was that the Communists in Russia had killed his 16-year-old son as the son of a bourgeois father—and no one laughed a bit. What seemed to weigh in his mind was that Judge Kaufman, who passed the death sentence on the Rosenbergs, was himself a Jew, and inclined to lean backward. I agree that the death penalty was unprecedented and harsh. But I wondered how loudly the Communists would shout out sometime if the judge had not happened to be Jewish.

I looked around the room, and what I saw were vultures and victims. The vultures were the half-pint commissars, exploiting the emotions of unsuspecting Jews. The victims were the group of lower middle class men and women, huddled together in anxiety. I keep thinking of the little orthodox rabbi. He seemed to me a genuine person, with a religious passion and a sense of kinship with his people. He knew that the Communists hated and destroyed Jewish communities everywhere inside the iron curtain. Why did he let himself be used by them?

I think it was because he had dwelt so long over the memory of the centuries of scars his people had suffered. Even in a free America it is a hard thing to erase the memory of those scars. That is why it is so unforgivable for the Communists to keep spreading the lie about the Rosenberg case. It is an insult to the overwhelming number of American Jews, who hate every form of totalitarianism, and it is a mockery of the millions of Jewish martyrs in Europe.

The Rosenbergs Got the Limit
—They're Not Big Corporations

I DID NOT COVER the trial of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, nor have I read the record of the case. I am not, therefore, in a position to know whether or not they are guilty of the charge of entering into an atomic espionage conspiracy on behalf of the Soviet Union in 1944-1945.

But this I do know: even on the assumption that they are guilty, the imposition of the death sentence was a monstrous injustice.

It was an injustice because at worst, even if guilty as charged, the Rosenbergs were helping an ally, not an enemy. There were others whose actions could easily be construed as giving aid to the enemy in wartime—what was their penalty?

Compare the sentence given the Rosenbergs with the punishment meted out to big corporations and their employees charged with—and admittedly guilty of—the crime of endangering the lives of our armed forces by selling defective engines to the Army Air Force, defective steel plate to the Navy, and defective wire and cable to the Army.

Take, for example, the Curtiss-Wright Corp., whose subsidiary company, Wright Aeronautical, had been furnished "with the finest plant and machinery available at Government expense." What came out of this plant for the Army Air Force engaged in a death struggle with the Nazis?

SWORN TESTIMONY presented to the Senate's "Special Committee Investigating the National Defense Program" (the Truman Committee), in 1943, gives the answer:

broken steel on the Schenectady was "brittle" and "more like cast iron than steel."

But Mr. Perry was not discomfited. (They have thick hides, these big corporation presidents.) "In any event," he replied, "the plate at the point where the break began was not a product of the Irvin Works."

Further questioning, however, revealed that the plate was a product of the Homestead Works of the same company. "That," said Senator Ferguson, "is where the men at the Irvin plant were taught to cheat. You don't like that word; have you a better one?"

Were any of the superior officers of the Carnegie-Illinois Corp. who gave the orders to fake and falsify the analyses of the quality and strength of steel for the wartime use of the United States Government given the death sentence? Don't be naive. The Carnegie-Illinois Corp. is a subsidiary of U. S. Steel, the biggest steel manufacturer in the world. That kind of company doesn't ever get that kind of justice.

EVEN MORE REVEALING was the case of the Anaconda Wire & Cable Co. and five of its top officials charged with conspiracy to manufacture and sell defective wire and cable to the Government of the United States.

The indictment charged the conspirators with knowing that "the use of such defective wire and cable not meeting said tests would endanger the lives of men in the military of the United States and would cause the loss of equipment and territory and would threaten the welfare of the United States in the war."

There was no dispute as to the facts. The defendants admitted devising phony testing apparatus to fool Signal Corps inspectors. The general manager of all Anaconda plants told the foremen they had to get the wire past the government inspectors. "Anyone who is not able to get the wire by these jerk Government inspectors," he said, "ought not to have a job in the plant."

Workers testified that they were warned never to talk to the inspectors; those employees who objected to the fake testing were transferred to other jobs.

All the defendants entered a plea of nolo contendere which, as the judge pointed out, was equivalent to a plea of guilty. Here they were, then, Anaconda Wire and Cable and five of its top officials before the bar of justice in that Attorney General Biddle called "one of the most reprehensible cases of defrauding the Govern-

"Engines were built and sold to the Government which were leaking gasoline . . .

"Inspectors were threatened with transfer or other disciplinary action if they did not accept engines which were leaking gasoline, and even during the committee's investigation one inspector was actually transferred for the sole reason that he refused to accept, for the government, an engine which was leaking gasoline . . .

"A substantial number of airplanes using this engine have had crashes in which engine failures were involved."

Anyone given the death sentence or even put in jail for selling defective engines to the United States Government? Don't be silly. Three days after the Truman Committee made its report, Acting Secretary of War Robert Patterson issued a statement which admitted the truth of "the greater part of the information furnished by the Truman Committee," but went on to say that Curtiss-Wright had "responded to every call made by the armed forces, and its performance on the whole has been creditable."

ANOTHER REPORT of the Truman Committee is entitled "Concerning Faking of Inspections of Steel Plate by Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation." The steel plate was sold to the United States Navy. On the stand before the committee, J. Lester Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois, said that the breaking up of the tanker Schenectady during its trial run on January 10, 1943, was not due to the failure of steel.

Senator Brewster of Maine then read from a report of the American Bureau of Shipping that the ment and endangering the lives of American soldiers and sailors ever to come to the attention of the Department of Justice."

WHAT WAS the punishment inflicted on this great corporation and its officials admittedly guilty of what could only be termed deliberate sabotage of the war effort?

Judge Thomas W. Slick was anxious to be fair. He was not going to be swayed by public clamor. He said so in pronouncing sentence: "I know how the public feels. You go out on the street, I imagine, and ask the public how they feel about men of this kind, and they say they ought to have the limit. The trouble is they don't know the facts. They think of our war effort, their emotion is patriotic rather than the administration of mere justice."

(Senator Bone, speaking on the Senate floor about the case, indicated that he understood the feelings of the public. "Some parent might think of a dead boy on Guadalcanal who might have died because an Anaconda cable did not function. It might make him want to take one of these Anaconda boys in his two strong hands and do something to him. American fathers and mothers still love their boys very deeply.")

Judge Slick went on: "I think you will agree with me that Mr. Hart (manager of the Marion plant) is not of the criminal type to start with; he is not a man who would rob a bank or steal an automobile and take it across the state line, or use the mails to defraud. He did, I think, participate or he admits his guilt in participating in this avoidance."

(Comment by Senator Bone: "The judge refers to this offense as an 'avoidance.' A nice word for a terrible act. Senators, that is a hell of a way to characterize the deliberate production of faulty cable which might cost the lives of thousands of boys if they attempted to use it on a battlefield.")

Judge Slick wrestled with the problem a while longer and finally came up with his sentence:

Anaconda—a fine of $10,000 and costs.

Mr. Johnson, general manager of all Anaconda mills—a fine of $10,000.

Mr. Hart—a fine of $10,000.

Mr. Carpenter, plant superintendent at Marion—a fine of $500.

Mr. Bishop, chief inspector at Marion—a fine of $500.

Mr. Kunkle, assistant chief inspector—a fine of $100.

In addition: Johnson, 2 years; Hart, 18 months; Bishop, 1 year and 1 day.

All prison sentences suspended. The National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case needs money. Its address is 246 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

Rally for 2 Spies

By HOWARD RUSHMORE

A left-wing committee denounced by Jewish groups for its attempts to create a false religious issue for Red propaganda purposes opens a series of demonstrations for A-bomb spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg tonight.

The "National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case," last week kicked out of Brooklyn's Academy of Music, has scheduled a rally for the convicted Soviet espionage agents at Manhattan Towers, Broadway and 76th st.

The same group, denounced by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, the American Jewish League Against Communism and the Jewish War Veterans, will hold another meeting at Great Central Palace, 90 Clinton st., Thursday.

The committee, which has Red ex-convicts and persons with long Communist records among its sponsors, claims that its speakers for both demonstrations include Dr. Annette Rubenstein, Rabbi Meyer Sharff, Yuri Suhl and Mrs. Helen Sobell.

The latter is the wife of Morton Sobell, convicted as a co-conspirator with the Rosenbergs and now serving a 30-year prison sentence for espionage.

The committee was ordered out of the Academy of Music last week after the city-controlled building operators had decided that the presence of the pro-Red group was against the best interests of the Academy.

The Communists and the Rosenberg Case

AT A MEETING recently called in New York by the Communist front "Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case," a speaker, carried away by his own eloquence, shouted with passion that the law of this land still was that anyone is innocent until proven guilty. The audience applauded wildly. For the moment, it seemed they had all forgotten that Ethel and Julius Rosenberg had been tried before a jury of their peers and found guilty of participating in a wartime espionage ring to provide the Soviet Union with secret atomic military information.

The Rosenbergs were convicted on March 30, 1951, and sentenced to death the following week. Six months later, the "progressive" (and Progressive party) National Guardian announced formation of the "Committee to Secure Justice, etc." In January 1952, the Committee got down to work—calling meetings, publishing literature, raising funds, and distributing petitions for a new trial.

What kind of "justice" is the Committee trying to "secure"? The Rosenbergs' defense counsel has appealed the conviction on grounds of insufficient evidence and the impossibility of obtaining a fair trial in an atmosphere of alleged anti-Communist hysteria. Whether this argument has any merit will be decided by the Supreme Court. Nevertheless, its exploitation is the immediate concern of the domestic Communist apparatus.

The Rosenberg conviction is exploited primarily as an example of the imminence of fascism in America, to wit: Two Americans have been the objects of an "outrageous frame-up" and sentenced to death for "political non-conformity." Every piece of literature, every speech at a Rosenberg meeting drives home this message, whose corollary is: "If the Rosenbergs die, . . . every Communist, every progressive will be hauled away to concentration camps and death houses." This message, taken verbatim from an address at a Rosenberg rally, is reiterated in every conceivable form.

On appropriate occasions, the Rosenberg committee adds another handle to the argument of "political non-conformity"—that of "anti-Semitism." Since the Rosenbergs are Jews, their conviction is being used to "prove" that the United States is embarking on a full-scale program of anti-Semitism. This line has been clearly enunciated by William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress, the Communist party's legal arm. In a press release issued to the Anglo-Jewish press in March (but not published anywhere), Patterson, an expert on "genocide," declared:

"The lynching of these two innocent American Jews, unless stopped by the American people, will serve as a signal for a wave of Hitler-like genocidal attacks against the Jewish people throughout the United States."

According to some former Communists, Soviet agents, in setting up Jews and members deliberately recruit groups to carry out dubious missions, so that, in the event of exposure, public hostility will be diverted away from the Communist apparatus toward these minority groups. The Communists also seek in this way to provide themselves with a fertile area for agitation and propaganda among these insecure minorities whose insecurity the Communists themselves have helped to increase.

In the case of the fellow-travelers and gullible liberals, the Communist technique is the same. After having carefully built up a towering structure of propaganda about American "fascization," "thought control," "anti-Communist hysteria," etc., and after having convinced many liberals that Buchenwald is just around the corner, the Communists now come along with the fantastic allegation that the Rosenbergs were convicted for "political non-conformity." Thus, having first created a sense of political insecurity among "progressives," the Communists then proceed to "prove" their case. They hope to reap the crop of sympathy and support grown from the seeds of fear, mistrust and falsehood they have planted.

It is impossible to judge how much of an impact the Rosenberg committee has had. Probably very little outside of those circles already infected with CP propaganda. But the committee has, to some small extent, been successful in getting support because of the harshness of the death sentence. Many people would like to see the death sentence commuted, though they have no doubt as to the Rosenbergs' guilt.

But past experience has taught that the Communists are least of all concerned with the lives of those who serve them. In any case, the Rosenberg committee has not expressed any desire for commutation of the death sentence, because it is committed to declaring the Rosenbergs' innocence. It may well be that the Communist party would prefer to have two dead martyrs rather than two live potential witnesses against

7,500 At Rally For Rosenbergs

Hordes of support in the campaign to save the lives of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, now in the Sing Sing death house, came yesterday from 7,500 New Yorkers.

Standing for 2 1/2 hours in the cold and rain at Union Square, the crowd cheered its endorsement of plans to bring pressure on President Truman to grant executive clemency to the couple convicted of atomic espionage.

Leaders of the National Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs reported that 100,000 signatures had been obtained on postcards urging Truman to commute the death sentences, the first ever imposed on any U. S. citizen in time of peace. The committee's goal is 1,000,000 cards.

Messages of sympathy and support came from labor federations in France, Italy, Australia, Israel and Mexico.

Among the speakers were: Hahel Meyer Sharff, of Brooklyn; the Rev. Amos Murphy, Boston, Mass.; Bessie Mitchell, sister of Celia English of the "Treason Six"; Max Emily Altman, a neighbor of the Rosenbergs and treasurer of the committee; Sol Tischler, American Labor Party candidate for Assembly in the 4th A. D. and president of Local 149, CIO United Furniture Workers; and Herb Frank and Bob Edwards, of the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers' Union.

EXECUTION STAY DENIED

But Rosenbergs Win a Hearing Tomorrow in Federal Court

Refusing to stay the execution date of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, convicted Soviet atom spies, Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld yesterday, ordered the Government to show cause tomorrow why the convictions should not be invalidated. The couple is scheduled to be executed in Sing Sing prison the week of Jan. 12.

Emanuel Bloch, counsel for the Rosenbergs, said he would argue tomorrow for a full hearing, which could take as long as a month, to show that the Rosenbergs' convictions were the result of "unfairness, fraud, perjury known to the authorities, and the purported core of the crime — the transfer of secret information — was not a crime."

United States Attorney Myles J. Lane argued that Judge Weinfeld had no jurisdiction to sign the order, that the matter must be taken before the sentencing judge, Irving R. Kaufman.

In signing the temporary order, Judge Weinfeld said the defense might renew its application at the hearing. He added that the defense had not shown any great urgency in asking for the stay at this time.

Phone Directories Combed In Campaign to Round Up Signatures for Petitions

By FREDERICK WOLTMAN,
Staff Writer.

The approaching execution of A-bomb spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg has given birth to a sympathy campaign without parallel in the long, fruity history of Red propaganda ventures.

In intensity, gross distortions, far-flung operations and cash resources, the Communists are out-matching even themselves.

Otherwise peaceful residents of Forest Hills, Park Ave., Flatbush and the Bronx—folks who have never been on a sucker list in their lives—are being deluged with appeals to help the "frame-up victims."

Phone Directories Used.

With the electrocution date set for Jan. 12, telephone directories are now used to supplement the usual "front" lists of prospective suckers. Phone subscribers with unlisted numbers are having the hits put on them, too, in what has become a major rallying-issue for world Communism.

In the past few months, Rosenberg literature has been circulated at churches of all denominations throughout the city. And what's happening in New York is repeated throughout the nation.

Focal point of the drive is an outfit that goes by the name of the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, with headquarters at 1050 Sixth Ave. Its daily press releases, circulars and pamphlets could properly be tagged "Manufactured in Moscow."

Anti-Semitic Issue.

Ignoring entirely the iron-bound evidence produced at the espionage trial, they're pitched to two propositions: first, the Rosenbergs, now in the death house at Sing Sing, were convicted because they tried to prevent another world war; and, second, they're victims of "a plot against Jews." Ignored also, naturally, is the fact the Jewish War Veterans, American Jewish Committee, Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and other Jewish groups have accused the committee of manufacturing the false issue of anti-Semitism.

The committee reportedly has already raised $100,000. Most of its propaganda goes out by direct mail. Yesterday, it offered to place full-page ads in five leading New York dailies.

Seek Executive Clemency.

Its latest mailing, dated Nov. 26, is a printed letter addressed "Dear Friend" and urging the recipient to join "hundreds of thousands of people in the United States" who have written President Truman to grant executive clemency. Unless the President "spares their lives," notes the appeal, the executions "may take place during the Chanukah and Christmas season."

Enclosed is a printed post card petition addressed to the President, which the committee has distributed by the hundreds of thousands; a circular headed, "The Rosenbergs Must Not Die," and a return envelope for contributions. The money goal is set at $50,000 for ads, radio and TV programs and direct mail.

Million Message Drive.

Less than a month earlier, the committee had launched a "Million Message" campaign for clemency in a dozen of the nation's largest cities, urging letters and telegrams to the White House. And, in the final, unsuccessful appeal to the Supreme Court last month, it handed up a brief for a new trial, bearing no less than 50,000 signatures. These, according to the committee, were rounded up by 3000 sympathizers who rang doorbells for six months. Four-fifths of the names came from outside New York City.

Dr. Ward's Name Used.

One of the signers the committee singled out as "an outstanding leader" was listed as "Dr. Harry F. Ward, professor emeritus of Christian theology at Union Theological Seminary and former chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union." The committee neglected to say that Dr. Ward, who has an almost interminable record of Communist associations, left the ACLU in 1910 when it barred Communists from office.

In another release it hailed the support of a Catholic priest, Father Clarence E. Duffy, who denounced the death sentence as "legalized killing" and demanded that the government return to the "Christian way." The fact that the Archdiocese of New York had long since withdrawn Father Duffy's privilege of saying mass publicly was, of course, not mentioned.

After he imposed the death penalty April 6, 1951, Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman received about 10,000 pieces of mail. About 99 percent were favorable. Then there was a lull until the Rosenbergs committee started functioning last January.

The impending mail drive has overwhelmingly favored a lighter sentence. The Red campaign was waning.

Communism At Work Americans Wake Up!!

Last week a fraud was perpetrated against two of Bayside's best known clergymen, the Rev. Howard C. Shaffer Jr., pastor of the Bayside Colonial Church and the Rev. Robert Ryan, pastor of the Community Baptist Church of Bayside.

Both men have been members of our community for more than ten years and both enjoy excellent reputations for their untiring efforts as christian gentlemen, to make of this community a better place in which to live.

As many of you undoubtedly read or learned, these Bayside clerics, along with four other Queens clergymen, were visited by two neighborhood women who were making a 'community' appeal for clemency for the convicted atomic spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The Rosenbergs face the death sentence in Sing Sing Prison for having been convicted of selling atom bomb secrets to Russia.

As United States citizens they received a fair and just trial and were found to be enemies of this country and traitors of this government. Thus convicted, they were sentenced to die. The three other defendants, meanwhile, self-confessed spies of another government, were given jail sentences which they are now serving.

The women, appealing for clemency for the Rosenbergs, told a convincing story to the Bayside ministers and appealed to their sense of justice and humanity as Men of God and stressed the cruelty of the death sentence which if completed would deprive the Rosenberg children of their parents.

Acting in good faith and swayed by the pathetic appeal, the clergymen signed the petition which was handed to them.

They were very surprised when a few days later they saw the statement that was being distributed throughout Queens over their signatures.

Headed, "A Letter from Six Queens Clergymen," giving the impression that the appeal originated with them, the statement listed the names of the six ministers with photoengraved copies of their signatures to the right of the names. With the exception of the recipient's name and address, the entire letter, including the signatures was reproduced from an engraved plate.

No mention whatever was made of the actual origination of the letter and appeal. Both Rev. Mr. Shaffer and Rev. Mr. Ryan denounce the letter as being a fraud and communist inspired and insist that their signatures were obtained through deceit.

We admire these men for admitting they were duped into signing the letter. Having exposed the fraud they have sought to alert their community members of the insidious manner in which these people work.

Though Communism disavows God and his teachings, these people had no inhibitions in 'using' Men of God to gain their objective.

We wonder how long these same people would live to tell the tale if they dared to practice a similar 'fraud' against a 'Red' official or community leader were they living within the boundaries of the Iron Curtain.

We are amazed at their brazenness in living under the protection of the American flag, enjoying the benefits of the 'American Way of Life', using the benefits of our free educational system to give to their children the right to pursue their chosen destinies and at the same time appealing to our members of the clergy for help in saving the lives of proven traitors against the United States of America.

Let's not forget that last Sunday, Dec. 7 was the 11th anniversary of Pearl Harbor. It was just such insidious incidents as these that led to the greatest act of treachery in the history of this great nation.

You, the people, are America—If such persons as our own ministers can be exploited in such an innocent appearing manner Can we Afford Not to Be on the Alert At All Times? We repeat—Wake Up, Americans.

716 Stage Rally for Atom Spies at Ossining; Demonstrators Are Kept Away From Prison

Special to The New York Times.

OSSINING, N. Y., Dec. 21—Informed in advance that none of their number would be permitted inside Sing Sing prison, 716 persons came here nevertheless today on a special train and staged an organized demonstration at the railroad depot for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The Rosenbergs have been condemned to death for conspiring with a former Soviet vice consul and others to transmit secret atomic information to the Soviet Union.

The group, organized by the Civil Rights Congress, which is listed by the Attorney General as subversive, was turned back by a cordon of police without even glimpsing the death house where the convicted atomic spies await execution in the electric chair the week of Jan. 12.

The demonstrators were forced to content themselves with marching four abreast up and down Secor Road, which runs up the hill from the station to Main Street, and is about a quarter of a mile from prison property. From midway up the station ramp they were addressed by four of their leaders, waved a single large placard bearing the words "Save the Rosenbergs," and departed without incident.

A wooden barricade had been set up about 200 feet from the prison on Hunter Street, which leads to the prison gate. The barricade was manned by police of local townships and villages and ten prison guards armed with nightsticks. The demonstrators, however, were not permitted to enter this street and at no time were closer to the prison than 2,000 feet.

A force of 150, including state troopers, Westchester County Parkway police, deputy sheriffs and police of local municipalities, had been mobilized to await the arrival of the "sympathizers," long heralded in The Daily Worker, Communist paper. The bulk of the force was held in reserve with only Ossining, Briarcliff Manor and Croton police appearing on the scene.

Inside the prison the usual Sunday complement of 100 guards was doubled.

The demonstrators, arriving at 12:20 P. M. on a special eight-car train from Grand Central Station in New York, were met by Inspector Spencer J. Purdy, Chief of Police of Ossining. He told William L. Patterson, national executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress, and Aubrey Grossman, secretary, that the group would not be permitted to go down the prison road. The march in the rain up and down the road near the railroad station and the speeches followed.

Rain and Cops De-Zip Save-Rosenberg Rally

The leftist Civil Rights Congress shepherded 716 followers to Ossining by special train yesterday for what was to have been a big rally in behalf of doomed atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, but between the cold rain and the police it was a pretty dispirited demonstration.

If the condemned couple even learned the demonstrators were in town it was via the Sing Sing grapevine, for the marchers were turned back nearly half a mile from the gates of the prison. A big basket of flowers and a pile of greeting cards intended for the Rosenbergs were refused by prison authorities and the affair finally wound up with a spate of speech-making in the unsheltered plaza of the railroad station.

150 Cops in Reserve.

Speakers, who likened the Rosenberg case to the Dreyfus and Sacco-Vanzetti affairs, included actress Karen Morley, novelist Howard Fast, and William Patterson, Negro, executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress. Only a handful of townspeople gathered to watch the proceedings and there was no interference or even heckling.

Unknown to the demonstrators, a force of about 150 state troopers, deputy sheriffs, Westchester County Parkway police and cops from nearby communities had been assembled by Police Commissioner John McCue as a reserve in case of trouble, but they were never called upon. They remained out of sight in the Hudson Wire Co. mill near the station.

Flowers Refused.

The only cops the demonstrators saw was a force of 25 to 30 which met them at Hunter St., about 1,000 feet from the station, and prevented them from turning south toward the prison. A committee of five was allowed to carry the flowers and cards to the gate, but nobody there would take them because they were not on the prison's approved list.

The demonstrators' eight-coach train, which left Grand Central Terminal at 11:30 A.M. and arrived in Ossining at 12:20 P.M., departed for the trip home at 2:40.

The Rosenbergs are scheduled to die the week of Jan. 12.

As the crowd poured out of a train arriving just after noon, they were greeted by Police Chief Purdy, of Ossining, who informed William L. tween the two men were conducted quietly.

Barricades set up on Main St., cutting off approach to the prison, created a hardship largely for Sunday visitors to prisoners. They could not get taxis or buses to the prison, because the roads were blocked, so they had to walk. At the same time, the barricades kept the demonstrators from getting out of a limited area.

They contented themselves with marching in the rain to the farthest barricade, and back again to the station, where they held their rally in a plaza. They sang patriotic songs and were harangued by their speakers. About two hours after arriving, they took a train back.

More than 125 State troopers, deputies and auxiliary police stood for hours near the prison, guarding all roads.

Rosenberg March On Prison Fizzles

Special to the New York Post

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 22—Sing Sing is as difficult to get into as it is to leave.

This was shown to 716 supporters of the Civil Rights Congress yesterday, when they staged a rally here to protest the scheduled execution of convicted atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The CRC is listed by the Attorney General as a Communist front.

The group arrived in Ossining shortly after noon aboard a chartered eight-car "Clemency Special." The group had planned to march to the gates of the prison, but never got closer than a quarter of a mile from it.

Determined to prevent repetition of the 949 Peekskill riots, police barred all roads to the prison. The roadblocks and police guards were in place two hours before the train was due.

March and Chant

Just so the trip shouldn't be wasted, the group listened to fiery speeches, marched up and down Ossining's Main St., sang patriotic songs and chanted "The Rosenbergs shall not die."

William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the CRC, and Ossining Police Chief Spencer Purdy conferred when the group arrived, and Purdy said the marchers would not be permitted to go beyond a quarter of a mile from the station.

Purdy denied Patterson's requests for permission to march to the City Hall or to the prison gates, but the chief decided to allow a delegation of five to travel to the prison with Christ.

mas cards and a huge floral wreath.

The rally began after the group slogged in the rain from the depot to the barricade on Main St., singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and returned to a steep ramp near the station. Then they sang the national anthem.

After that, the speakers began. They included Karen Morley, film actress who last month refused to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether she had ever been a Communist; Mrs. Willie McGee, wife of Mississippi Negro executed for raping a white woman; and author Howard Fast.

The main address was made by Patterson, who spoke bareheaded in the rain.

Patterson, Fast and a small group then entered police cars and were taken toward the prison walls. The cars were stopped by barricades at the edge of the state land about 1,500 feet from the gate.

'Not Goodbye'

Patterson placed the wreath at the barricade, then turned to the prison and said, "we are not saying goodbye, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. We shall not rest until we set you free."

The delegation returned to the station, the train appeared from the siding and the sudden marchers climbed aboard, still singing. The whole rally had taken 2 hours and 25 minutes.

"Clemency Committees" Distort Rosenberg Case

In these confused times, when between black and white there is a large and puzzling area of grey, it is important that the Rosenberg case be understood for what it is. An attempt has been made by "clemency committees" and the subversive Civil Rights Congress, to paint the convicted atom spies as an idealistic young couple who are being legally murdered because they were overzealous in their actions, and because they are of Jewish origin.

This argument may be very persuasive among certain people who are uneasy about capital punishment altogether, and who are not aware of the real facts in the Rosenberg case. This traitorous spy team are not "confused liberals" who are being persecuted because they once belonged to an organization later found to be communist-dominated, or because they said something years ago which sounds subversive today. The truth is that they very deliberately secured possession of certain technical information on the atom bomb, and helped to transmit that information to a foreign power. They have never denied that this is a fact, and they have never come forward to expose the larger ramifications of the plot. Conceivably, their sentences might be commuted should they show any signs of serving the United States—but this would be the last thing the "clemency committees" and the Civil Rights Congress would want.

The claim that the Rosenbergs' conviction was brought about because of anti-Semitism was nailed by the Jewish War Veterans this week. In any case, the expose of official anti-Semitism in iron curtain countries makes this claim ironic.

How the victims of communistic regimes must envy the legal safeguards which surround the Rosenbergs!

Woman Spy Costs More

The state is billing the Government $38.00 a day for the feeding and care of Mrs. Ethel Rosenberg, only woman prisoner in Sing Sing. It was disclosed yesterday at the prison. Mrs. Rosenberg's husband, Julius, with whom she is slated to be executed Jan. 15 for wartime espionage, costs only $4.40 a day. Mrs. Rosenberg's daily tab includes the pay of four matrons.

Florida Gov. Fuller Warren's wife is expected to make her own headlines Jan. 6th, the day he leaves office... Gov. Warren (Calif.) may get a new son-in-law. He is lifeguard D. Rocklin. Sooo in lust mit Nina... Princess Jane Obolensky is reportedly marrying Walter Brooks, now getting unwedlocked from Will Rogers' dear Mary... Alex D'Arcy is jelling up to Gloria Grahame, the cute little cracker... Coleen Gray is feelin' no pain after jilling John Payne. She now duels with T. Havelock Allen, ex of actress Valerie Hobson... "When the Gods are Silent" by Mikhail Soloviev (due Friday) may be the "Out of the Night" book sensation of 1953... C. Lindbergh, they say, is visiting a Park Ave. specialist... The reason for the John Hodiak-Anne Baxter divorce: He got tired of her cigar ashes all over the rug.

Dorothy Thompson's name is (among others) on pamphlets distributed by a committee seeking "Justice" in the Rosenberg case, the man and wife condemned to die soon for giving our atomic secrets to Russia. Miss Thompson has been working and propagandizing for The Arab League—in its fight against Israel. That makes her comment (about the Rosenbergs) in The Washington Star (April 12th, 1951) news here now. Her quote: "The death sentence... depresses me... In 1944 we were not at war with the Soviet Union"... Two other local names used in the "justice" pamphlets for the convicted Communist spies are Josephine Baker's lawyer, Arthur Garfield Hays, and the N. Y. Post's Max Lerner.

The Washington Express: The Dept. of Justice (with the co-op of Internal Revenue and FBI) will fling an income tax indictment at an ex-top official. (To break the Abe Reles-Murder, Inc. case)... A former U. S. Attorney (in Bklyn) will be a target of a sealed indictment. For violating Section 281. It will be the biggest of the political bombshells... In order to administer the McCarran Immigration Act it has been necessary to send more than 500 consular officials to West European ports. On semi-permanent basis... The Capitol will be so jammed (Inaugural Week) the Pullman people will line up sleeping cars (along Union Station) for those crowded out of hotels... Mrs. Nixon may inherit the role of Washington's No. 1 hostess. Maude doesn't care too much for that sort of thing.

Today's U. S. Senate Internal Security (sub-committee) Report will reveal this testimony about Judy Holliday. The quotes are: "For a generation her family has been split wide open, the one faction being Communist and the other Socialist, and when I say Communist I mean membership in the Communist Party. Miss Holliday elected to cast her lot for a number of years with the Communist faction of the Tuvim (her real name) family."

LABOR By VICTOR RIESEL

THERE'S a 37-year-old American lady in Red politics, living over on the East Side of New York City, whose happy New Year depends on how quietly and successfully she can speed the Sovietization of these United States.

She works at this daily by promoting the welfare of a Soviet-controlled global labor network, which, in turn, sabotages our world defenses, stirs foreign workers into riots against arms shipments and tries to disaffect workers on our bases reaching from Iceland to the Caribbean.

And she does this with unique immunity. She is officially accredited to the United Nations though she speaks for no country except, of course, that transcontinental thing called the Soviet apparatus. She came well recommended to the apparatus. For she was until Jan. 2, 1951, a special researcher for Harry Bridges, himself for a while (until it got too hot) the head of the Soviet-line world maritime federation. Her name is Elinor Kahn.

Victor Riesel

The irony is that Miss Kahn represents the Soviet's World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU)—something from which the CIO withdrew in disgust because it was Communist-dominated.

The WFTU, even at this moment, is stirring up trouble for us across the world. In Iceland, for example, as this is being written, there rages the biggest strike in the little democracy's history. The harbor is paralyzed. Ships are not able to load. The airport is shut. Transcontinental planes are being rerouted.

For three weeks the West's oldest republic has been frozen almost as solid as its icy wastes. And what powerful influence is trying to drag it on?

Who has promised the strikers money if they continue to freeze the flow of gasoline, continue to stall bus services, milk deliveries and even mail? Elinor Kahn's World Federation of Trade Unions, of course.

The Icelandic government has been aiding our military men in the reactivating and renewed construction of vital air bases. Natives are being used. Our technicians haven't arrived yet. But they are scheduled to begin joining the 20 or so U. S. specialists in Reykjavik (the capital of Iceland) on March 15. By then the Red line there will be: "We, the Communists, helped you in your strike. You know we're with you. Believe us when we say the Americans are coming to involve you in a global war when the Soviets want peace."

It's wonderful, isn't it? Let's shift further down the Atlantic coast to the Caribbean. There the British Island of Jamaica lies between the Turks Island rocket base and the Florida West Coast guided missile testing waters. But it is important for still another vital reason, for Jamaica is the missing link in the chain of democratic anti-Communist trade union movements the AFL and CIO have been building as a wall against further infiltration.

The Communists want control of that island's labor because the natives there will soon be developing an industry on which our aircraft production is based—the processing of bauxite, ingredient of aluminum. That's rapidly becoming the biggest industry in Jamaica, under the skilled engineers of Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser. So the World Federation of Trade Unions is concentrating all its efforts to prevent the democratic unions from getting hold of the bauxite workers. And the Communists' drive is directed by a deported ex-New Yorker, Ferdinand Smith.

In the words of my friend, Serafino Romauldi, the AFL's roving Latin American expert:

"Smith is still in Jamaica, which happens to be his native country, and from there he is directing the WFTU activities throughout the Caribbean area. He seems to have plenty of money at his disposal. I just returned yesterday morning from Jamaica..."

Who gave Smith this money—who finances him, a man kicked out of the CIO's National Maritime Union and deported for Communist activity? The same hand which puts dollars into the Iceland strike and pays the little Red lady on the East Side of New York.

I just thought you'd like to know to whom we are playing host.

March by White House
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (UPI)—About 1,000 demonstrators began marching before the White House today in an appeal to President Truman to spare the lives of atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.
 A spokesman for the Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs said the demonstration will continue "until President Truman grants a stay" of execution.
 The marchers, who were quiet and orderly, carried signs protesting the death sentence and asking clemency for the couple. Kenneth Fox, of New York, said a special train brought "hundreds" of demonstrators from New York today and that others were coming from California, Washington, Illinois, Ohio, Texas, Louisiana, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.
 Delegations were named to call on the President, the State and Justice Departments and Congressmen.
 The marchers formed lines across the street from the east end of the executive mansion. They were unable to march in front of the White House because the sidewalk was blocked by grandstands erected for the inauguration parade.

The Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs has also drawn censure from a group of national and local Jewish organizations as "a Communist-inspired group seeking to distort an issue of law into an issue of religious bias."

Fuchs and Peizer condemned the action of the Levittown Hall authorities on the basis that, regardless of who had reserved the Hall for the meeting, it was being held specifically for the Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs, and should have been banned "especially since it is hard for a good American organization to get meeting nights at the Hall."

Geruso Replies

Dick Geruso, Levittown Hall director, issued the following statement yesterday:

"As director of Levittown Hall, I do not represent any authority sitting in judgement regarding the people of Levittown. My job, as I see it, is to allocate the Hall facilities to Levittown organizations. It has not been my practice to judge, censure or condemn the program of any group in the light of my own political preferences.

"When the loyalty of any group is in question, I believe the matter should be referred to the proper government authorities. Last summer question arose concerning the loyalty of one group using the Hall. I immediately wrote to the State Department requesting information as to the loyalty of this group. I also telephoned the FBI and was referred by them to the Civil Service Commission in New York City. Both the State Department and the Civil Service Commission replied that the group in question was not listed as subversive. This correspondence with the State Department may be seen in my office by any Levittown resident.

"In the light of these official statements that there was no evidence of disloyalty, I saw no reason to deny the use of the Hall to this group.

"I have tried and shall continue to try to the best of my ability to serve the welfare of this community."

Sobbing Over Rosenbergs.

"In the spirit of love," regardless of guilt or innocence, some 1500 Protestant clergymen and various other individuals urge President Truman to exercise his power of executive clemency to save the Rosenbergs from death.

Yet no faintest "spirit of love," least of all toward their fellow Americans, stirred in the hearts of these two traitors when they turned over to the Soviets atom bomb secrets that might have cost millions of American lives here at home, in addition to the thousands already being lost in Korea.

If this wasn't premeditated wholesale murder on colossal scale, what was it?

Also how much "brotherly love" would these well-meaning clemency pleaders have felt if they had to see New York and other American cities reduced to depopulated ruins?

Painful lack of proportion, to put it mildly, can be felt in otherwise intelligent Americans who lend their aid to Soviet-inspired urgings to spare the Rosenbergs.

To invoke "the spirit of love" to save these two calloused, utterly unrepentent spies and traitors from the death penalty is a grotesque sacrifice of solidly built up justice to a mere rush of emotion.

U.S. Should Use Reds' Anti-Semitism To Loosen Tongues of Rosenbergs

The two miserable Communists—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg—who are on the way to the death chair as traitorous spies are Jews.

Have the authorities informed them that the Stalin regime at Moscow has gone anti-Semitic and baldly and completely adopted Adolf Hitler's shocking policies?

The high command of world Communism has initiated a purge of Jewish leaders in Russia as well as in Czechoslovakia. Unquestionably the same policy will soon be adopted in America and elsewhere. So the handwriting is on the wall for all the Jewish Communist leaders here. This group, it must be pointed out, is but a tiny, infinitesimal proportion of the great body of loyal patriotic Jews in America.

So it would seem as if the Rosenbergs, as Jews, would give some serious thought as to whether they should martyrize themselves for a cause which is now frankly letting the world know that it has become bitterly anti-Jewish.

Locked in the brains of this couple is information about the Communist spying system in this country which would be of immense value to our Government at Washington. As long as they see fit to protect the Reds by sealing their lips, we can have not one bit of sympathy for them and we believe that they are not entitled to mercy.

As to the theory held in some quarters that Moscow wants them to die so as to make propaganda out of their fate, we are confident that Stalin would find a way to make equally effective propaganda for his cause if American authorities finally went soft and spared the lives of those two traitors who are guilty of a crime worse than murder.

But if the Rosenbergs finally talked, it would unquestionably be worth sparing their lives and keeping them in prison for the rest of their lives. They could furnish information that might rock the nation. For they might well involve Government officials as well as Communists and others involved in the espionage plotting.

The only way to loosen their tongues, in our view, is to show them what Stalin's adoption of Hitler's anti-Semitism may mean to them.

Bob Considine on the Rosenbergs:

Falacies in Red's Spy Trial Pleas

Attorney Lauded Court For 'Courtesy' Extended

In this fifth article of a series telling "The Rosenberg Story," Bob Considine recalls the highlights of the trial of the convicted husband and wife atomic spy team, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who are awaiting death in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison.

By BOB CONSIDINE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

World Copyright, 1953, By International News Service

The historic three-week trial of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, now facing electrocution as war time Russian spies, suffered partial eclipse at the time it was on.

It conflicted in dates with the less significant but then more sensational Kefauver hearings involving Frank Costello, Joe Adonis, Virginia Hill and William O'Dwyer.

The meaning and nuances of the spy trial were consequently lost on millions of Americans captivated by the sight of Costello's knuckle-kneading on their television screens. Communist propagandists have since capitalized on this by issuing statements concerning court-room irregularities which never took place.

So vast has been the spread of Communist lies about the trial that the U. S. State Department recently felt forced to send a lengthy review of the case, outlining the charges and the evidence presented, to 40 U. S. diplomatic missions through the world.

The case against the Rosenbergs was astutely prepared by U. S. Attorney (now Judge) Irving Saypol, Myles J. Lane, now U. S. Attorney, Roy M. Cohn, James B. Kilshelmer III, Stanley D. Robinson and their assistants. The couple was apprehended after remarkable detection work on the part of the FBI and other confidential agencies.

trial included Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, co-conspirator David Greenglass; David's wife (who testified at length about the Rosenbergs' role in the theft of A-bomb secrets, their disbursement of money, etc.), ex-Communist Elizabeth Bentley who knew Rosenberg through her lover, Communist boss Jakob Golos; fellow traveler Max Elitcher; long-time Communist courier Harry Gold, and two witnesses whose testimony dealt with the projected flight of the accused couple—a doctor who was asked about "shots" needed for Mexico, and a photographer who took the Rosenberg passport pictures.

In his summation, defense attorney Emanuel Bloch expressed gratitude for the manner in which the case had been treated. In subsequent appeals Bloch has said his clients were unjustly dealt with, that certain Government witnesses were frightened into their testimony or outright perjurers, that Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who presided at the trial, should avoid the risk of being remembered in judicial history with Judge Thayer, whose handling of the Sacco-Vanzetti case became a scandalous international incident.

He has made other charges, but at the end of the actual testimony Bloch said:

EXHIBITS IN CASE.

"I would like to say to the court on behalf of all defense counsel that we feel that you have treated us with the utmost courtesy, that you have extended to us the privileges that we expect as lawyer, and despite any disagreements we may have had with the court on questions of law, we feel that the trial has been conducted and we hope we have contributed our share with that dignity and that decorum that befits an American trial.

that we are appreciative of the courtesies extended to us."

"I would like to also say to the members of Mr. Saypol's staff

Exhibits in the case included Greenglass' reproductions of the drawings given to Gold and Rosenberg, records of Gold's trip to Albuquerque, the bank deposit slips of the Greenglasses the day after Gold called, passport photos, the $4,000 given to Greenglass by Rosenberg to flee the country, the paper in which the bills were wrapped, etc. The originals of Greenglass' drawings, the jury agreed, went to Russia and helped the Reds create their atomic bomb.

Harry Gold's long, detailed account of his trip to Albuquerque in 1945 to pick up A-bomb information from Greenglass, and Gold's description of how he used a piece of a Jello-O box and the passwords "I came from Julius," was damning testimony against the Rosenbergs.

On the stand the Rosenbergs frequently refused to answer questions, especially those relating to the previous charges of their Communist affiliations, on the ground of self-incrimination.

In an appearance before the grand jury, Ethel Rosenberg was asked:

Q. Did you ever sign a Communist Party nominating petition for elective office?

A. I did sign a Communist Party petition.

REFUSED TO ANSWER.

Confronted with this admission during the trial, and asked the same question, she replied, "I refuse to answer on the ground that this might tend to incriminate me."

The phrase heavily threaded the testimony of the soft-looking little mother of two during her time on the stand. She used it principally in refusing to answer questions about communism, including one refusal to acknowledge the well-documented fact that Julius was fired as a civilian electronics advisor to the Army Signal Corps after the FBI presented the Army with his Communist Party membership record. Mrs. Rosenberg also used the self-incrimination plea rather than an emphatic no on such questions as "do you recall ever having discussed the work of your brother, David Greenglass—the work that he was doing at Los Alamos, New Mexico?"

Appeals courts unanimously agreed the statute under which the Rosenbergs were convicted is "not void for indefiniteness," that the indictment was sufficient, that there was ample evidence to support the verdict, that Judge Kaufman acted "well within his discretion in the interrogation of witnesses," that no error was made in the reception of evidence, and that the death sentence did "not constitute cruel and unusual punishment within the meaning of the Eighth Amendment."

Decision on Rosenbergs
To Await Brownell Study

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (UP) — President Eisenhower will withhold a decision on the clemency plea of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, atomic spies, pending a recommendation from his new Attorney General, Herbert Brownell Jr., the White House said today.

The scheduled execution of the Rosenbergs, convicted of conspiring to steal this country's atomic secrets, has been postponed until the President makes a decision. The plea for mercy was filed before former President Truman left office yesterday. He did not act because the Justice Department has not yet completed its review.

Freedom Of The Press

Freedom of the press is one of the functions of the newspaper, radio or other means of disseminating news and if these media of communication are to be effective they must at times publicize information with which there is wide disagreement.

An editor cannot very well be a self imposed censor and for this reason we believe that it is the duty of a newspaper to sell legal advertising to those who pay current rates.

In keeping with that policy of providing a medium by which free thought can be exchanged we sell space.

We might imagine what a wonderful world we would live in if we were only to hear and read about things which are pleasant but if we are to form intelligent judgment we must necessarily know both sides of the story and that's why the constitution has guaranteed us Freedom of the Press.

We do wish to emphasize however that the Rosenberg Ad which appeared in the Watchman last week in no way represents the personal views of this newspaper.

A motion has been made by the Ruddick Trowbridge Post of American Legion that the sentiments and expression of the Ruddick Trowbridge Post No. 73 of the American Legion be unanimous and that we are in favor of the original verdict rendered by the Courts of the Land and that all advertisements hereafter have the names of the committee who have inserted such advertisements.

We are in accord of the verdict by the jury and leave it up to the courts and our presidents.

The Rosenbergs have been fairly tried by the courts of this land and if the President decides that they should get a new trial it is in his power to do so.

Spies' Lawyer Says Pope's Action Isn't Surprise

Emanuel Bloch, the Rosenbergs' counsel, commented this morning that he was "not surprised at all that any decent, civilized person should ask for clemency."

"The Pope echoes on behalf of the Catholic Church what thousands of Protestant clergymen have held. Men of God rebel at this barbaric kind of sentence."

"I hope the President will listen to these expressions from millions throughout the world."

Couple to Hear News

He said he would inform the doomed couple of this development when he sees them in Sing Sing's death house tomorrow.

At Sing Sing Warden Wilfred Denno said it was likely the death house inmates would hear of the Pope's interest in their case late this afternoon when the prison radio is turned on after work hours.

It was in this way they first heard that the President had rejected their appeal for clemency.

Mr. Bloch said the news from the Vatican would have no effect on his plans to ask the U.S. Court of Appeals today for a stay of execution. This would give him time to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has twice turned down appeals, for a new trial.

Original Date Was Jan. 14

Falling the stay, Judge Irving R. Kaufman is expected to set a new execution date next Monday. The compl. was originally scheduled to die in the electric chair Jan. 14.

At the Chancery Office in New York, a spokesman for Francis Cardinal Spellman referred inquiries to Msgr. Cicognani, the Apostolic delegate in Washington.

Msgr. Cicognani was not available for clarification of how or when the Pope's intercession had been transmitted.

Saypol Won't Comment

In New York, Supreme Court Justice Irving H. Saypol, who as U.S. attorney prosecuted the case, would not comment on the statement from the Vatican.

Myles J. Lane, present U.S. attorney, said he knew nothing about it and felt that it would not be proper for him to comment.

JURY IN PERL TRIAL TO GET CASE TODAY

U. S. Demands Conviction on All Four Perjury Counts—
Defense Assails Move

Government and defense lawyers summed up yesterday in the Federal Court perjury trial of William Perl with the one urging the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty on all four counts and the other asserting that such a finding would be incredible.

This morning Judge Sylvester J. Ryan will deliver his charge to the jury and then present the case to the eleven men and one woman for their consideration. The jury must decide whether Perl, who worked for the Government during and after World War II in the field of aerodynamics, lied deliberately when he told a Federal grand jury here in 1950 that he did not know Julius Rosenberg and Morton Sobell, convicted atom spies, and three other persons.

After reviewing the evidence presented by the Government since the case opened Monday, Lloyd F. MacMahon, Chief Assistant United States Attorney, said that undisputed testimony, the documents offered and Perl's "own lies on the witness stand" had proved beyond a reasonable doubt that he had lied to the grand jury.

"This defendant must be taught that when you come into court or before a grand jury and take a solemn oath to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God, the oath means just that, no more and no less," Mr. MacMahon said.

Perl Called a Genius

Raymond L. Wise, ~~testifier~~ for the 34-year-old former Columbia University physics instructor, recalled Perl's testimony that when he was asked whether he knew Rosenberg and Sobell he thought the question meant whether he was intimately associated or acquainted with them and that he was anxious to make clear to the jury that this was not so.

Describing Perl as a genius in the field of physics, Mr. Wise said there was overwhelming proof that he did not intend to lie to the grand jury, that he just went as far as he could short of lying deliberately.

The evidence offered by the Government was intended to show that Perl was intimate with Rosenberg and Sobell when they were students at City College in the Nineteen Thirties and that this relationship continued well into the Forties. Perl denied this was so.

He denied also any recollection of accompanying Ann and Michael Sodorovich, two of those he denied knowing, when they bought a car from an advertising agency executive in Cleveland in 1948. The executive and several others told of this incident on the witness stand.

The fifth person he told the jury he did not know was Helene Elitcher, who with her husband, Max, testified as Government witnesses that they had seen Perl with Sobell and Rosenberg.

Perl also denied on the stand yesterday that he was or ever had been a Communist or a member of any Communist organization or that he had ever engaged in any subversive activity.

"I'm as loyal as the next fellow, but I don't believe in beating my breast about it," he said.

2,000 Swarm on Capitol In Plea for Rosenbergs

By Homer Bigart

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The White House was picketed tonight by two opposing groups of demonstrators as the Supreme Court postponed its decision on the fate of the Rosenbergs.

Rosenberg sympathizers numbering about 2,000, mostly from New York, carried posters urging mercy for the convicted atom spies while the anti-Rosenberg pickets, numbering exactly four, held aloft the legend: "Hanz 'em." Police kept the two groups from mingling.

Earlier the Rosenberg sympathizers swarmed through the Capitol Building seeking out their Congressmen with pleas for intervention in the Rosenberg case.

They came by special train and descended first on the Capitol, breaking up into small groups once they were inside the building and mingling with ordinary tourists. Later they re-assembled on the mall, not far from the Department of Justice, where they sat on the grass quietly waiting word from the Supreme Court.

Some React Angrily

Some Congressmen reacted angrily to the invasion. Rep. Carroll D. Kearns, R., Pa., charged the demonstrators were "trying to intimidate justice in America." He told the House that he would introduce a resolution calling for investigation of groups seeking clemency for the convicted atom spies. He demanded to know who had "organized and underwritten" the demonstration.

On the mall, David Alman, of New York, national secretary of the Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, said the Washington excursion was originally planned as a "victory celebration" following the stay of executions granted the Rosenbergs by Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court.

Names Other Leaders

"Then, when we heard of the Justice Department's application to vacate the stay we decided to go ahead anyway," he said. "We printed 100,000 leaflets and had them on the streets in New York last night."

Don Rothenberg, who said he was Washington representative of the committee, said that other leaders of the demonstration were Joseph Brainin, of New York, whom he identified as an "Anglo-Jewish journalist," Aaron Schneider, of New York, "a former trade union official," and Yuri Suhl, a New York novelist.

Mr. Rothenberg said that Mrs. Sophie Rosenberg, mother of Julius Rosenberg, who flew down from New York this morning with the announced intention of making a personal appeal to President Eisenhower, had not yet been told of the move to vacate the execution stay.

Fund Spurred for Rosenbergs' Sons In Letters Sent Throughout Nation

Thousands of letters from the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case were spread over the nation today urging contributions to a trust fund for Michael and Robbie, the two sons of the executed atom spies.

Brooklynites received their quota today of the exhortations stressing the importance of insuring that the children grow up feeling that their parents have been fully vindicated and that the name they bear is an honored one throughout the world."

Before their deaths in the Sing Sing electric chair, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, it was stated, had appointed Emanuel H. Bloch as trustee of funds for their two sons.

Contacted at his office today, Bloch said he had been out of touch with the work and could not say how much the fund now totaled, although he knew his secretary had received "some contributions."

The committee, according to the letter, has undertaken the task of adding to the fund by selling copies of the Rosenbergs' "Death House Letters." This sale, the group asserted, also will "contribute much toward the dissemination of the truth about the innocence" of the convicted pair.

The letter concludes with the thought that "The Rosenbergs can only win vindication if we succeed in securing justice for Morton Sobell, co-defendant in the Rosenberg case, who has been sentenced to a living death for 30 years in Alcatraz."

"By undertaking the responsibility to secure justice for Morton Sobell," the group said, "we reopen the entire Rosenberg case. This is the primary task that confronts the forces who fought for the lives of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg."

A spokesman for the committee said today that the letter has been sent out to the group's entire mailing list, numbering 6,000 or 7,000 persons.

The letter also urged "full support in the great Dedication Rally at Triboro Stadium, Randall's Island, on the evening of Aug. 18."

25 WEST 42ND STREET, NEW YORK 36, N. Y. (LOWBACH) 3-7606

July 31, 1953

Vol. 2, No. 31

Dear Subscriber:

COMMUNIST PARTY HAS LAUNCHED A CAMPAIGN TO FREE SPY MORTON SOBELL. On June 22, 1950, six days after the arrest of DAVID GREENGLASS on charges of atomic espionage, MORTON SOBELL, a NY Electronics and Radar expert, fled to Mexico City by airplane with his wife and two children.

SOBELL kept on the move in Mexico, using fake U. S. addresses when registering in hotels and seven different aliases. In sending letters to an acquaintance in the U. S. with the request that enclosures in the letters be forwarded to various people in this country, SOBELL told his acquaintance that he was on a vacation trip and would explain matters when he returned.

Mexican authorities caught up with SOBELL in Mexico City on Aug. 16. He was deported and arrested by the FBI in Laredo, Texas, on Aug. 19.

Meanwhile, JULIUS ROSENBERG, close friend and college classmate of SOBELL, had been arrested on July 17, and ETHEL ROSENBERG was picked up by the FBI on Aug. 11, three days after SOBELL's arrest.

These and other arrests followed FBI talks with KLAUS FUCHS, who had confessed in Britain earlier in the year that he had spied for Russia while he worked on the A-bomb project in the U. S.

SOBELL was indicted and tried with the ROSENBERGS. (He was convicted with them and sentenced to thirty years in prison.)

He refused to testify in his own defense or to call any witnesses in his behalf during the trial. Eight witnesses testified for the Govt about SOBELL's trip to Mexico. In addition to the facts mentioned above, it was revealed that SOBELL had been extremely nervous while trying to make friends with people in Mexico, that he had cashed in his return airplane trip ticket that he had explained that he was trying to get out of Mexico without proper papers, and that he did not want to return to the U.S. He stated falsely that he had served in World War II and did not want to have to go into the Army again because of the Korean situation.

MAX ELITCHER was the Govt's key witness against SOBELL. ELITCHER had known SOBELL since they were in high school. He was a classmate of both SOBELL and JULIUS ROSENBERG in college and he had been a close friend of SOBELL since 1938 when the two worked for the Govt in Washington. In 1939 they had shared an apartment there.

ELITCHER worked for the U.S. Ordnance Dept during the war and then in the aircraft and marine engineering division of General Electric Co. He was later employed by the Reeves Instrument Co. which was doing secret work on rockets and guided missiles and on matters related to the A and H bombs.

ELITCHER testified that both SOBELL and JULIUS ROSENBERG had asked him to supply them with secret data on several different occasions beginning in 1944 and that he had joined the Communist Party in Washington at SOBELL's suggestion, although while in college he had rejected the invitations of SOBELL and ROSENBERG to join the Young Communist League.

He also revealed that SOBELL had once taken him with him in his car when he delivered a roll of 35 mm film to ROSENBERG and that SOBELL had asked him (ELITCHER) for the names of engineering students who were "progressive" and might be approached for secret information. SOBELL told ELITCHER that such students cooperated with him, he could probably arrange things so that they would get help in furthering their education.

SOBELL was angry and disturbed, ELITCHER testified, when he told him know that JULIUS ROSENBERG had told him (ELITCHER) that SOBELL was engaged in espionage. "He shouldn't have told you," SOBELL said.

The Govt did not charge that SOBELL had anything to do with stealing A-bomb secrets from Los Alamos. It did charge that he was guilty of conspiring to turn secret U S information over to Soviet Russia. A jury found SOBELL guilty of the charge and the Court of Appeals and Supreme Court have upheld his conviction.

But now the CP claims that SOBELL "never did anything" - never committed any "illegal act" - and yet has been sentenced to "living death" in Alcatraz, the "Devils Island" of the U S. The party has launched a campaign to free this man who, it claims, is in jail for life solely because he would not help the FBI's political police frame ETHEL and JULIUS ROSENBERG.

The Nat'l Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, which directed the Rosenberg propaganda agitation for Moscow in the U S, is spearheading the drive for SOBELL, with the help of SOBELL's wife, HELEN. She has spoken in his behalf in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland, St Louis, Milwaukee, Gary, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and in Toronto, Canada. On Aug 12 she will address a big Communist rally at the city-owned Randall's Island stadium in New York.

The Nat'l Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case is planning to run big ads for SOBELL in newspapers (just as it did for the ROSENBERGS), to establish a legal committee to meet with SOBELL's attorneys, and to dissolve shortly and be replaced by a SOBELL committee divided into three sections: West, Midwest and East, which will be autonomous but will consult with one another to decide strategy and tactics in the SOBELL campaign.

There's little chance that SOBELL will be freed. But if the party can at least win a new trial for SOBELL, its efforts will be worthwhile. That will be enough to cast doubts on U.S. justice and thus help smear America abroad and undercut the fight against Communism at home.

SOBELL's case will NOT be won by lawyers and the courts but by the people, a speaker at a recent San Francisco rally for SOBELL proclaimed. He added that the ROSENBERG affair had pointed out "dramatically and tragically how inadequate the law is in a "political" case.

In other words, the CP hopes to browbeat the U.S. into freeing SOBELL by arousing mass sentiment for him. It says he was prosecuted for "political" reasons, that his case is not legal but political, and it will therefore be decided by "political" measures, which, to the Communists, means pressure.

The ROSENBERG case proved that millions of people will still fall for Communist lies and confusion tactics. Moscow intends to capitalize on this in SOBELL's case in order to increase anti-U.S. and neutralist feeling abroad and to help divert attention from its own troubles and tyranny.

WHAT CAN YOU DO ABOUT IT?

Alert your local press and community C.I.O. veterans, church and patriotic groups to what is developing. Urge them to expose this Communist plot and to warn all community members against becoming entangled in it.

Plan Rosenberg Vindication

Future activity of the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case will be planned at the two-day Eastern Seaboard Conference this weekend.

The conference will be held Saturday and Sunday, August 15-16 at the Manhattan Towers Hotel, 77th St., and Broadway. Delegates are expected from Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, Washington, D.C., Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and other states. The sessions each day will be from 10 A.M. to 6 P.M.

The first session on Saturday morning, which will be open to the public, will feature evaluations of the past campaign and discussion of future plans by the committee's national officers.

"A World View of the Rosenberg case," will be given by Joseph Brainin, national chairman of the Rosenberg committee.

"What the Rosenberg Case means to America," will be discussed by David Alman, executive secretary.

The conference will consider the case of Morton Sobell, third defendant in the Rosenberg trial, who was sentenced to 30 years in Alcatraz. Plans will be made for a public fight for justice for Sobell, who swears he is innocent.

Virginia Gardner has done a job of creative journalism. She has gone back into the youth of Ethel and Julius Rosenberg and filled out for us the picture of this immortal couple who gave to American legend two new saints who would not barter honor and truth for their lives. Hundreds of millions of human beings all over this earth think of Ethel and Julius as sister and brother. There is no question but that they will be enshrined in the memory of their fellow-Americans when the truth about them becomes fully known to all. Virginia Gardner has helped to bring that truth closer to millions by the remarkable portrait she has painted of the early days of this New York boy and girl who rose to such heights of heroism and nobility. You will feel a better human being for reading these articles.

Hit Rosenberg Defenders for Back Taxes

The Internal Revenue Bureau has filed a tax lien of $124,121.96 against the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case.

The committee, organized to defend executed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, is believed to have collected between $300,000 and $500,000 from Nov. 1, 1951, to Oct. 31, 1953, the period named in the action.

The lien was filed in Federal Court to tie up the committee's funds pending hearings. The government charges that the committee was not entitled to tax exemption as a charitable organization.

Rosenberg Fund Is Hit By Tax Lien

A lien for $124,121 representing unpaid income taxes has been filed by the Bureau of Internal Revenue against the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case, it was disclosed Monday.

The lien, filed in Federal Court, covers the fiscal years 1951-1952 and 1952-1953 and attaches all assets which the committee, organized in 1951 on behalf of executed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, may have in banks or other places.

THE ROSENBERGS were executed at Sing Sing on June 19, 1953, and the committee reportedly went out of existence officially in the Fall of that year.

From reliable sources, THE MIRROR learned that Government agents have estimated the committee collected more than a million dollars in contributions, but that its officials have refused to disclose the exact amount, or where and how spent.

The lien, filed by Denis J. McMahon, Collector of Internal Revenue for the 2d District, is based on the government's contention that the committee was not a charitable organization.

At the office of the Rosenberg committee at 1030 Sixth Ave., a man who identified himself only as a spokesman told THE MIRROR he had not known about the lien filing. He said the committee went out of existence after a meeting in Chicago last year and that a new group, called the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Sobell Case was established to "follow through."

Morton Sobell was convicted as a co-conspirator of the Rosenbergs and is serving a 30-year sentence.
